

Law Student From York Is Fatally Hurt In Crash Here

William Walter Van Baman, Jr., 26, of 546 Country Club road, York, son of prominent York attorney and himself a law student at Dickinson college, Carlisle, died at 9:30 a.m., Sunday in the Warner hospital of injuries received when his automobile overturned on the Fairfield road, 4.3 miles west of that borough, near Zora, at 8:55 p.m., Saturday.

State police of the Gettysburg substation, who investigated the accident, said Van Baman, who was alone in the car, was traveling west toward Zora and ran off the right side of the highway. Van Baman was thrown out of the car when the latter struck an embankment and overturned.

He struck the macadam pavement about 25 feet from the car. Dr. C. G. Crist said he suffered a fractured skull, crushed left side of the face, cerebral contusions and hemorrhage. The Adams county coroner said he believed Van Baman was either driving too fast and lost control of his car, or the steering mechanism broke. No inquest will be held, he said. Damage to the automobile was estimated by police at $700.

Was World War II Yet

Van Baman's Theta Chi fraternity brothers at Dickinson college in Carlisle, where he was a second year law student, said they believed he was driving to Hagerstown, Md., to meet a friend.

Van Baman, whose father is an attorney and former district attorney, was a graduate of York Collegiate institute. He served three and a half years in the Air Corps during World War II and was discharged as a sergeant. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Dickinson in 1949.

He was a member of the Country club of York. York Post 2, AMVETS, and York Lodge 266, Free and Accepted Mason. He was active in the Brotherhood of St. Andrew of the Episcopal church.

Private funeral services will be at 4 p.m. Tuesday at St. John Episcopal church, with the Rev. J. Daniel Stover, pastor, officiating. Interment in Prospect Hill cemetery.

BELLS IN COUNTY TO RING TUESDAY

Bells will ring throughout Adams county Tuesday at 12:03 o'clock in connection with the dedication of the Freedom Bell in Berlin.

Burgesses throughout the county today joined in a joint proclamation calling upon residents of the various communities to ring bells at the time the newly cast Freedom bell is sounded for the first time in a bell tower in Berlin, Germany, 100 miles within the "Iron Curtain" of Russian domination.

They pointed out in the joint proclamation, that "The Freedom Bell is the symbol of the Crusade for Freedom, which enlisted millions of Americans in a great campaign of truth against malicious Communist propaganda. The Crusade has enabled all Americans personally to demonstrate our true ideals of freedom and friendship for all peoples."

The American Broadcasting company, Columbia Broadcasting system, National Broadcasting company network and WGET are planning to carry the program of dedication of the bell direct from Berlin, starting at 12 noon. Following dedicatory remarks by General Lucius D. Clay, national chairman of the Crusade for Freedom, the Freedom Bell will begin to ring at 12:03 which will be the signal for the bells throughout the county to begin.

PLAN INQUEST

Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, today announced that an inquest will be held at the court house here Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock into the death of Robert Arndt, 21, of 159 North Stratton street. Arndt died Wednesday at the Warner hospital after having been injured in an auto accident Tuesday night on the Biglerville road.

Pennsylvania Week Train Ends 1,248-Mile Tour Here Saturday With "Best Show" As Final Act

Adams county scored another "first" Saturday afternoon. Observers, including state officials and performers aboard the Pennsylvania Week Special when it made its final stop of the week's tour in Gettysburg Saturday afternoon said the program and the crowd here was best of the entire 1,248-mile itinerary.

Other towns visited enroute might have had larger throngs on hand to greet the train, or more elaborate programs preceding the train's arrival, but nowhere, the train personnel said, was there more enthusiasm than in Gettysburg. And the reception accorded the train here was directly responsible for the best show of the entire trip.

A crowd estimated at between 1,000 and 1,500 gathered at the Carlisle street crossing of the Western Maryland railroad, waiting for the train's arrival. They began gathering before 2 o'clock, even though the train was not scheduled to arrive until 3:30 p.m. Ten minutes late in reaching Carlisle, the train lost another five minutes enroute to Gettysburg over the Gettysburg-Harrisburg division of the Reading railroad, but the crowd forgot about the delay and the long wait the minute the show began.

Stone "Recognized"

Hardly had the locomotive brought the long special to a stop, with the "stage car" directly across the street crossing, than the Pittsburghers, national champion barber shop quartet, opened the program with its first number. Then came the master of ceremonies. The crowd might not have recognized Ezra

Stone, but the minute he started talking, they knew it was "Henry Aldrich," the star of the Aldrich family of radio fame.

As the program progressed, it was Stone who kept the crowd laughing with his antics and quips. Stone is a rotund little man and the star of the show. Movie Queen Alexis Smith, is tall, much taller than Stone. Miss Smith took off her high-heeled shoes and was still too tall. Ezra solved the problem by standing on a soap box.

Local "talent" participated in the show, although the local participants were unscheduled and had no advance notice, which of course made it funnier. Ezra had the Kitchettes from Biglerville do two numbers on their kazooes, and complimented them on their organization.

Bobby Boyd, snare drummer in the Blue and Gray band, which played as the train pulled in, was kissed both by Emilie Longacre, "Miss Pennsylvania," and Alexis Smith, and Mrs. Vernon Clapper, secretary in the county superintendent of school's office, was "drafted" from the audience to play the "mother" with "Henry Aldrich." Of course Henry had to kiss his "mother," and a very enthusiastic filial embrace it was.

These were a few of the highlights on the lighter side of the program. The crowd left no doubts in the minds of the train personnel as to what they thought of Adams county. "What's the best county in Pennsylvania? In the United States?"

Old Grad, 85, Leads Alumni Back To Campus On Saturday

Among the hundreds of "old grads" in Gettysburg over the past week-end for the homecoming, William M. Duncan of Los Angeles, Cal., was probably the oldest at 85.

Mr. Duncan, a native and former resident of Gettysburg, graduated at the college in 1883. He went west, was in the banking business and is now retired.

With his wife and sister-in-law, Mrs. John M. Anglin, all of Los Angeles, Mr. Duncan spent the week-end at the home of his brother, Schmucker Duncan, class of 1891. Mr. Duncan is a member of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. After graduation he served until 1888 as secretary to a congressman in Washington, then engaged in banking and real estate at Eureka Springs, Ark. He then went to Los Angeles where he owned several hotels, homes and apartment houses.

The party motored to Gettysburg on a trip which took them through Canada, and left Sunday for the return trip to California.

Hotels, rooming houses, and tourist cabins were filled to capacity for the home coming week-end. It was one of the largest celebrations of this nature in the history of the college.

A parade of floats was one of the features at the Gettysburg-Muhlenberg football game Saturday afternoon. Gettysburg residents and those here from elsewhere Friday night got a preview of floats at the pep rally in Lincoln Square and the pre-game parade.

The Phi Gamma Delta float which depicted the "Bream-Capozzi" barber shop with the Mules getting a trimming, won first place in the float awards Saturday afternoon.

PHI DELTS GIVEN NATIONAL HONOR ON ANNIVERSARY

The celebration of the 75th anniversary on Pennsylvania Beta chapter of Phi Delta Theta was highlighted here Saturday evening with the presentation of the Ward scholarship cup which the local chapter won in competition with 119 other chapters in the United States and Canada.

Presentation of the cup was made by George S. Ward, treasurer of the general council of Phi Delta Theta, at an anniversary dinner Saturday evening at Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church when national and college officials gathered with active and alumni members and guests to celebrate the chapter's diamond jubilee.

40-8 OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED AT AREA MEET

Harold Wentz, recently elected chief de gare of Volture Local No. 731, Forty and Eight, and other officers of the Adams county branch of the American Legion's "honor organization" were installed at the home of the Albert J. Lentz Post No. 202 here Sunday afternoon by Grand Cheminot Raymond L. Smith and his staff.

The installation of local officers was a part of the quarterly meeting of the south-central conference of the Forty and Eight, which brought dozens of "high brass" in this organization to Gettysburg for the business session.

Other officers installed included the following: chief de train, Vincent Florence; correspondent, Eugene S. Siskler; commissaire intendante, Roy Alexander; commiss voyageur, Charles Mayhall; conducteur, Dorsey Robert; grade de la porte, Billy Sheeler; lampiste, Bernard Knox; avocat, Donald M. Swope; aumonier, Charles Bollinger.

Representatives were present from the Eight and Forty, the women's counterpart of the Forty and Eight and adjunct of the American Legion auxiliary, during the open session at which the new officers were installed.

The ladies were taken on a bus tour of the battlefield while the conference held its business meeting, with Dr. Frederick Tilberg as lecturer. A turkey banquet was served at 5 o'clock.

M'SHERRYSTOWN SCOUTS NAMED BISHOP'S TROOP

McSherrystown's Catholic boy scout troop for the third successive year won the Bishop's troop honor given annually to the outstanding Catholic Boy Scout troop in the Harrisburg Diocese. It marks the first time any troop has won honor three years in a row.

Members of Troop 107, of Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary parish, McSherrystown were presented with the blue and gold flag symbolic of the honor at the annual dedication of Catholic Boy Scouts held at St. Patrick's Cathedral in Harrisburg Sunday afternoon. More than 1,200 scouts took part in the dedication ceremony at the Cathedral and in a parade proceeding the service held from the Catholic Youth Center in Harrisburg to the Cathedral.

Win Eagle Badges

The scouts were reviewed by the bishop's committee on scouting and scout officials and executives from various areas of the diocese as the parade passed on State street in Harrisburg.

Three Treated For Minor Injuries

Larry Devilliss, 5, Keymar, Md., was treated at the Warner hospital for a fracture of his left arm received in a fall from a ladder on Saturday.

William Scott, 75, Baltimore, was treated for a laceration of the left hand sustained when struck by an auto in Emmitsburg.

Patricia A. Hess, four and one-half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hess, Cashtown, received treatment for a laceration of the forehead sustained in a fall while playing.

Just received our fall shipment of studio and sofa bed slipcovers, Raymond Home Furnishings. "Furniture on the Square," Gettysburg.

Judge Speaks At Harrisburg Banquet

Judge W. C. Sheely was the speaker for the Fraternal Order of Police banquet at the Penn-Harris hotel in Harrisburg Saturday evening. The event of the Keystone lodge, made up of state police, was the fourth anniversary and ladies' night with Col. C. M. Wilhelm, Judge Robert E. Woodside, Harrisburg, and Judge Dale F. Shughart, Carlisle, as honored guests.

JUDGE EAGAN TOP SPEAKER FOR DEMOCRATS

Judge Michael J. Eagan, Scranton, Democratic candidate for judge of the state Supreme court, was the principal speaker Saturday afternoon at the Democratic rally and ox-roast at the Memorial auditorium in the South Mountain fair grounds.

Eagan took the place of U. S. Senator Francis J. Myers, who was scheduled to speak but who was ordered to bed by his physicians Friday night with a bad case of laryngitis. Other speakers included Congressman James F. Lind and Jay W. Bringman, candidate for state legislature. Attorney Richard A. Brown was master of ceremonies. About 300 attended the affair.

Terming the Democratic candidates this year "the finest type of men ever offered by any political party as candidates, men against whom there can be absolutely no taint of suspicion," Eagan declared: "They are of the type that anyone could be proud to support."

He accused Governor Duff of "very probably doing some campaigning at the expense of the taxpayers," in connection with the Pennsylvania Week train which the Republican candidate for U. S. senator was accompanying during the week.

"Let Korea Be the Issue"

"Our opponents," Eagan said, "refuse to talk about the graft and corruption in Philadelphia, which can be cleaned up only by putting a Democratic governor at Harrisburg. They refuse to talk about the state Public Utility commission, which favors the companies rather than the people. They refuse to talk about the milk control board which favors the big companies at the expense of the farmer and the consumer. They refuse to talk about the situation in regard to our roads."

Three Cars Hit In Line At Light

Three cars were damaged Sunday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock in an accident on Buford avenue.

Borough police said that heavy traffic on the avenue caused a line of cars to "pile up" behind the intersection traffic light at Buford and Chambersburg street. The line extended to the Glenn L. Bream garage on Buford avenue.

Earl Roser, 35, of York, failed to stop in time and struck the last car in line, operated by Edward M. Kennedy, 17, New Oxford R. 1, and Kennedy's car bounced forward, striking a car operated by Robert Rhodes, 25, of 523 West Middle street. All were headed east.

Damage was estimated at $300 to the Roser car, $100 to the Kennedy vehicle and $35 to the Rhodes car. Roser was arrested for failing to stop.

HOMER R. BUOHL EXPIRES AT 72

Homer R. Buohl, 72, of 39 East Water street, died at the Warner hospital this morning at 11:40 o'clock. He had been in ill health for the past two years and had been in the hospital for six weeks.

A native of Lutherville, Md., a son of the late John T. and Sarah Price Buohl, he moved, with his family, to Hanover at an early age and then came to Gettysburg, residing here since 1911.

A member of the Battlefield Guides association, he was a guide on the battlefield here for 30 years.

Surviving are his wife, the former Bertie V. Hahn, whom he wed 51 years ago; the following children, Hazel P. Buohl, at home; W. Earl Buohl, Gettysburg R. 4; Chauncey R. Buohl, Pittsburgh; and Burnell P. "Red" Buohl, Gettysburg; one grandchild, one great-grandchild and two brothers, George Buohl, Gettysburg, and Wilbert Buohl, Hanover.

South Koreans Sweep Within 50 Miles Of Manchuria

By LEIF ERICKSON

Seoul, Korea, Oct. 23 (AP) — South Korean forces swept within 50 miles of the Manchurian border today.

Shattered remnants of the Red Korean army were fleeing frantically toward the mountain triangle north of Kanggye. It was there that the Red chieftain, Kim Il Sung, carried out his guerrilla war against the Japanese before Russian occupation forces installed him as premier of North Korea after World War II.

Kanggye is about 20 miles from the border in the center of the peninsula.

Can Reach Border Tuesday

Three South Korean (Rok) divisions were driving for the Manchurian border to finish the four-month war.

Observers said the Roks, who can make 30 miles a day in forced marches, were capable of reaching the Yalu river on the border Sometime Tuesday.

(General MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo was non-committal. A spokesman said only that the army "had several estimates of when Allied troops were expected to reach the Manchurian border.")

On the north bank of the river, Red China troops guard Manchuria.

The desperate Red Koreans were fleeing northward so fast that they no longer could herd all their Allied prisoners along with them. Many POWs were escaping to the safety of Allied lines.

Other prisoners were massacred by the Reds in a brutal last show of defiance. Sixty-six Americans were found machinegunned 40 miles north of Pyongyang, the fallen Red capital. Two others died, but 21 survived the ruthless slaughter.

Five hundred South Koreans were reported murdered at Yonghung, on North Korea's east coast.

An army intelligence officer in Tokyo said the Red Koreans had put up "no real organized resistance in the last 24 hours."

Fleeing Reds were reported turning inland in their retreat, before the advancing United Nations forces. Officers said they were entering an area dotted with ancient walled cities. These will, not offer much defense, a spokesman said.

OFFICIALS WILL SEE DEDICATION

Gettysburg was to be well-represented this afternoon at dedication ceremonies conducted at the Gettysburg interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike extension.

The borough will be represented by Burgess William G. Weaver, who will also attend the dedication dinner tonight at the Penn-Harris hotel in Harrisburg. Also attending will be State Senator Donald P. McPherson, Jr., and Republican County Chairman John H. Baschore, both of Gettysburg.

The Gettysburg Motor club of the American Automobile association is to be represented by Henry M. Scharf, Henry W. Garvin, Chamber of Commerce president; N. A. Mellgates, a member of the board of directors, and Glenn C. Bream, member, represented this organization.

The 100-mile extension of the turnpike, from Carlisle to King of Prussia, near Philadelphia, was dedicated and officially pre-viewed at day-long ceremonies, in which prominent state officials, headed by Governor Duff, took part.

A cavalcade of automobiles left the eastern terminus this morning, after ceremonies at the Valley Forge interchange. Similar programs are being conducted at the other interchanges, including the Gettysburg interchange on the Gettysburg-Harrisburg road, at 4:15 o'clock.

At Interchange

A detail from the Gettysburg substation of the Pennsylvania state police augmented other state police at the Gettysburg interchange this afternoon. Cpl. Jack Bartlett was in charge. The others were Pfc. George Ackerson and George Evanko. Actual opening of the turnpike extension is not expected before November 1. Thomas J. Evans, commission chairman said.

County Native Dies At Atwater, Ohio

Jacob H. Slaybaugh, 82, a native of Adams county, and a resident of Atwater, Ohio, died Sunday morning at the hospital in Alliance, Ohio.

Surviving are his wife, Dillie; two daughters, Mrs. Mabel Gable, Alliance, Ohio, and Mrs. Leta S. Coldiron, Akron, Ohio; and two brothers, Albert W. Slaybaugh and Reuben W. Slaybaugh, both of Centre Mills. He was born near Centre Mills, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William H. Slaybaugh.

Funeral services from Wood's funeral home, Atwater, Ohio, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment in Alliance, Ohio.

MRS. F. J. IRVIN IS FOUND DEAD

The lifeless body of Mrs. Florence A. Irvin, 37, wife of Francis J. Irvin, was found hanging in the garage at the Irvin home, Gettysburg R. 3, Saturday noon, by Mr. Irvin upon his return home.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, investigated and said that death was due to suicide by hanging. Mrs. Irvin was reported as having been ill and in a depressed mental state for some time.

She was born in Adams county, a daughter of the late John and Louise (Smith) Smith. She was a member of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church.

Surviving are her husband, to whom she was married 11 years; three children, James J., Pauline T., and Susanne L., all at home; one brother, Harold Smith, Hanover R. 4.

Funeral services Tuesday morning, meeting at the Bender funeral home at 8:15 o'clock with a requiem mass at 9 o'clock at St. Francis church conducted by the Rev. Fr. Anthony F. Kane. Interment in St. Ignatius cemetery, Buchanan Valley. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening after 7 o'clock.

REPORT ON CHILDREN

The number of children under care of the Adams County Child Welfare services increased from 153 to 157 in January, according to a report made by the state to the county commissioners. On December 31 there were 153 children under care of the services, 17 were added during January and 13 dropped from the rolls. The 157 remaining were from 88 families.

CHILD STILLBORN

A son was stillborn at the Warner hospital Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Topper, Gettysburg R. 5.

Huge Throng Greets Pennsylvania Week Special

Top photograph shows a part of the crowd which jammed Carlisle street and packed itself around the special to hear the train celebrities put on their show and tell of the glories of Pennsylvania.

BELLS IN COUNTY TO RING TUESDAY

Bells will ring throughout Adams county Tuesday at 12:03 o'clock in connection with the dedication of the Freedom Bell in Berlin.

Burgesses throughout the county today joined in a joint proclamation calling upon residents of the various communities to ring bells at the time the newly cast Freedom bell is sounded for the first time in a bell tower in Berlin, Germany, 100 miles within the "Iron Curtain" of Russian domination.

They pointed out in the joint proclamation, that "The Freedom Bell is the symbol of the Crusade for Freedom, which enlisted millions of Americans in a great campaign of truth against malicious Communist propaganda. The Crusade has enabled all Americans personally to demonstrate our true ideals of freedom and friendship for all peoples."

The American Broadcasting company, Columbia Broadcasting system, National Broadcasting company network and WGET are planning to carry the program of dedication of the bell direct from Berlin, starting at 12 noon. Following dedicatory remarks by General Lucius D. Clay, national chairman of the Crusade for Freedom, the Freedom Bell will begin to ring at 12:03 which will be the signal for the bells throughout the county to begin.

PLAN INQUEST

Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, today announced that an inquest will be held at the court house here Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock into the death of Robert Arndt, 21, of 159 North Stratton street. Arndt died Wednesday at the Warner hospital after having been injured in an auto accident Tuesday night on the Biglerville road.

Pennsylvania Week Train Ends 1,248-Mile Tour Here Saturday With "Best Show" As Final Act

Adams county scored another "first" Saturday afternoon. Observers, including state officials and performers aboard the Pennsylvania Week Special when it made its final stop of the week's tour in Gettysburg Saturday afternoon said the program and the crowd here was best of the entire 1,248-mile itinerary.

Other towns visited enroute might have had larger throngs on hand to greet the train, or more elaborate programs preceding the train's arrival, but nowhere, the train personnel said, was there more enthusiasm than in Gettysburg. And the reception accorded the train here was directly responsible for the best show of the entire trip.

A crowd estimated at between 1,000 and 1,500 gathered at the Carlisle street crossing of the Western Maryland railroad, waiting for the train's arrival. They began gathering before 2 o'clock, even though the train was not scheduled to arrive until 3:30 p.m. Ten minutes late in reaching Carlisle, the train lost another five minutes enroute to Gettysburg over the Gettysburg-Harrisburg division of the Reading railroad, but the crowd forgot about the delay and the long wait the minute the show began.

Stone "Recognized"

Hardly had the locomotive brought the long special to a stop, with the "stage car" directly across the street crossing, than the Pittsburghers, national champion barber shop quartet, opened the program with its first number. Then came the master of ceremonies. The crowd might not have recognized Ezra

Stone, but the minute he started talking, they knew it was "Henry Aldrich," the star of the Aldrich family of radio fame.

As the program progressed, it was Stone who kept the crowd laughing with his antics and quips. Stone is a rotund little man and the star of the show. Movie Queen Alexis Smith, is tall, much taller than Stone, Miss Smith took off her high-heeled shoes and was still too tall. Ezra solved the problem by standing on a soap box.

Gets Stars' Kisses
Local "talent" participated in the show, although the local participants were unscheduled and had no advance notice, which of course made it funnier. Ezra had the Kitchenerettes from Biglerville do two numbers on their kazoo, and complimented them on their organization.

Bobby Boyd, snare drummer in the Blue and Gray band, which played as the train pulled in, was kissed both by Emilie Longacre, "Miss Pennsylvania," and Alexis Smith, and Mrs. Vernon Clapper, secretary in the county superintendent of school's office, was "drafted" from the audience to play the "mother" with "Henry Aldrich." Of course Henry had to kiss his "mother," and a very enthusiastic filial embrace it was.

These were a few of the highlights on the lighter side of the program. The crowd left no doubts in the minds of the train personnel as to what they thought of Adams county. "What's the best county in Pennsylvania? In the United States?"

The party motored to Gettysburg on a trip which took them through Canada, and left Sunday for the return trip to California.

Hotels, rooming houses, and tourist cabins were filled to capacity for the home coming week-end. It was one of the largest celebrations of this nature in the history of the college.

A parade of floats was one of the features at the Gettysburg-Muhlenberg football game Saturday afternoon. Gettysburg residents and those here from elsewhere Friday night got a preview of floats at the pep rally in Lincoln Square and the pre-game parade.

The Phi Gamma Delta float which depicted the "Bream-Capozzi" barber shop with the Mules getting a trimming, won first place in the float awards Saturday afternoon.

PHI DELTS GIVEN NATIONAL HONOR ON ANNIVERSARY

The celebration of the 75th anniversary on Pennsylvania Delta chapter of Phi Delta Theta was highlighted here Saturday evening with the presentation of the Ward scholarship cup which the local chapter won in competition with 119 other chapters in the United States and Canada.

Presentation of the cup was made by George S. Ward, treasurer of the general council of Phi Delta Theta, at an anniversary dinner Saturday evening at Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church when national and college officials gathered with active and alumni members and guests to celebrate the chapter's diamond jubilee.

40-8 OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED AT AREA MEET

Harold Wentz, recently elected chief de care of Voiture Local No. 731, Forty and Eight, and other officers of the Adams county branch of the American Legion's "honor organization" were installed at the home of the Albert J. Lentz Post No. 302 here Sunday afternoon by Grand Chemist Raymond L. Smith and his staff.

The installation of local officers was a part of the quarterly meeting of the south-central conference of the Forty and Eight, which brought dozens of "high brass" in this organization to Gettysburg for the business session.

Other officers installed included the following: chief de train, Vincent Florence; correspondent, Eugene S. Sikes; commissaire, Roy Alexander; commis voyageur, Charles Mayhall; conducteur, Dorsey Robert; grade de la porte, Billy Shealer; lampiste, Bernard Knox; avocat, Donald M. Swope; amonieur, Charles Bollinger.

Representatives were present from the Eight and Forty, the women's counterpart of the Forty and Eight and adjunct of the American Legion auxiliary, during the open session at which the new officers were installed.

The ladies were taken on a bus tour of the battlefield while the conference held its business meeting, with Dr. Frederick Tilberg as lecturer. A turkey banquet was served at 5 o'clock.

M'SHERRYSTOWN SCOUTS NAMED BISHOP'S TROOP

McSherrystown's Catholic boy scout troop for the third successive year won the Bishop's troop honor given annually to the outstanding Catholic Boy Scout troop in the Harrisburg Diocese. It marks the first time any troop has won honor three years in a row.

Members of Troop 107, of Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary parish, McSherrystown were presented with the blue and gold flag symbolic of the honor at the annual dedication of Catholic Boy Scouts held at St. Patrick's Cathedral in Harrisburg Sunday afternoon. More than 1,200 scouts took part in the dedication ceremony at the Cathedral and in a parade proceeding the service held from the Catholic Youth Center in Harrisburg to the Cathedral.

Win Eagle Badges
The scouts were reviewed by the bishop's committee on scouting and scout officials and executives from various areas of the diocese as the parade passed on State street in Harrisburg.

Two of the McSherrystown Scouts were presented with Eagle badges, the highest rank in scouting, during

Three Treated For Minor Injuries

Larry Devilbiss, 5, Keymer, Md., was treated at the Warner hospital for a fracture of his left arm received in a fall from a ladder on Saturday.

William Scott, 75, Baltimore, was treated for a laceration of the left hand sustained when struck by an auto in Emmitsburg.

Patricia A. Hess, four and one-half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hess, Cashtown, received treatment for a laceration of the forehead sustained in a fall while playing.

Just received our fall shipment of studio and sofa bed slipcovers, Raymond Home Furnishings, "Furniture on the Square," Gettysburg.

Judge Speaks At Harrisburg Banquet

Judge W. C. Sheely was the speaker for the Fraternal Order of Police banquet at the Penn-Harris hotel in Harrisburg Saturday evening. The event of the Keystone lodge, made up of state police, was the fourth anniversary and ladies' night with Col. C. M. Wilhelm, Judge Robert E. Woodside, Harrisburg, and Judge Dale F. Shughart, Carlisle, as honored guests.

Ezra Stone, Alexis Smith and other members of the Pennsylvania Week train staff appeared at the banquet and took part in the entertainment program.

JUDGE EAGAN TOP SPEAKER FOR DEMOCRATS

Judge Michael J. Eagan, Scranton, Democratic candidate for judge of the state Supreme court, was the principal speaker Saturday afternoon at the Democratic rally and ox-roast at the Democratic auditorium in the South Mountain fair grounds.

Eagan took the place of U. S. Senator Francis J. Myers, who was scheduled to speak but who was ordered to bed by his physicians Friday night with a bad case of laryngitis. Other speakers included Congressman James P. Lind and Jay W. Bringham, candidate for state legislature. Attorney Richard A. Brown was master of ceremonies. About 300 attended the affair.

Terming the Democratic candidates this year "the finest type of men ever offered by any political party as candidates, men against whom there can be absolutely no taint of suspicion," Eagan declared: "They are of the type that anyone could be proud to support."

He accused Governor Duff of "very probably doing some campaigning at the expense of the taxpayers," in connection with the Pennsylvania Week train which the Republican candidate for U. S. senator was accompanying during the week.

"Let Korea Be the Issue"

"Our opponents," Eagan said, "refuse to talk about the graft and corruption in Philadelphia, which can be cleaned up only by putting a Democratic governor at Harrisburg. They refuse to talk about the state Public Utility commission, which favors the companies rather than the people. They refuse to talk about the milk control board which favors the big companies at the expense of the farmer and the consumer. They refuse to talk about the situation in regard to our roads."

Three Cars Hit In Line At Light

Three cars were damaged Sunday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock in an accident on Buford avenue.

Borough police said that heavy traffic on the avenue caused a line of cars to "pile up" behind the intersection traffic light at Buford and Chambersburg street. The line extended to the Glenn L. Bream garage on Buford avenue.

Earl Roser, 33, of York, failed to stop in time and struck the last car in line, operated by Edward M. Kennedy, 17, New Oxford R. 1, and Kennedy's car bounced forward, striking a car operated by Robert Rhodes, 25, of 522 West Middle street. All were headed east.

Damage was estimated at $300 to the Roser car, $100 to the Kennedy vehicle and $35 to the Rhodes car. Roser was arrested for failing to stop.

HOMER R. BUOHL EXPIRES AT 72

Homer R. Buohl, 72, of 39 East Water street, died at the Warner hospital this morning at 11:40 o'clock. He had been in ill health for the past two years and had been in the hospital for six weeks.

A native of Lutherville, Md., a son of the late John T. and Sarah Price Buohl, he moved, with his family, to Hanover at an early age and then came to Gettysburg, residing here since 1911.

A member of the Battlefield Guides association, he was a guide on the battlefield here for 30 years.

Surviving are his wife, the former Bertie V. Hahn, whom he wed 51 years ago; the following children, Hazel P. Buohl, at home; W. Earl Buohl, Gettysburg R. 4; Chauncey R. Buohl, Pittsburgh; and Burnell P. "Ned" Buohl, Gettysburg; one grandchild, one great-grandchild and two brothers, George Buohl, Gettysburg, and Wilbert Buohl, Hanover.

Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Bender funeral home with the Rev. W. R. Sammel officiating. Interment in Evergreen cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening after 7 o'clock.

South Koreans Sweep Within 50 Miles Of Manchuria

By LEIF ERICKSON
Seoul, Korea, Oct. 23 (AP) — South Korean forces swept within 50 miles of the Manchurian border today.

Shattered remnants of the Red Korean army were fleeing frantically toward the mountain triangle north of Kanggye. It was there that the Red chieftain, Kim Il Suna, carried out his guerrilla war against the Japanese before Russian occupation forces installed him as premier of North Korea after World War II.

Kanggye is about 20 miles from the border in the center of the peninsula.

Can Reach Border Tuesday

Three South Korean (Rok) divisions were driving for the Manchurian border to finish the four-month war.

Observers said the Roks, who can make 30 miles a day in forced marches, were capable of reaching the Yalu river on the border Sometime Tuesday.

(General MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo was non-committal. A spokesman said only that the army "had several estimates of when Allied troops were expected to reach the Manchurian border.")

On the north bank of the river, Red China troops guard Manchuria.

The desperate Red Koreans were fleeing northward so fast that they no longer could herd all their Allied prisoners along with them. Many POWs were escaping to the safety of Allied lines.

Other prisoners were massacred by the Reds in a brutal last show of defiance. Sixty-six Americans were found machinegunned 40 miles north of Pyongyang, the fallen Red capital. Two others died, but 21 survived the ruthless slaughter.

Five hundred South Koreans were reported murdered at Yonghung, on North Korea's east coast.

An army intelligence officer in Tokyo said the Red Koreans had put up "no real organized resistance in the last 24 hours."

Fleeing Reds were reported turning inland in their retreat before the advancing United Nations forces. Officers said they were entering an area dotted with ancient walled cities. These will not offer much defense, a spokesman said.

OFFICIALS WILL SEE DEDICATION

Gettysburg was to be well-represented this afternoon at dedication ceremonies conducted at the Gettysburg interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike extension.

The borough will be represented by Burgess William G. Weaver, who will also attend the dedication dinner tonight at the Penn-Harris hotel in Harrisburg. Also attending will be State Senator Donald P. McPherson, Jr., and Republican County Chairman John H. Basehor, both of Gettysburg.

The Gettysburg Motor club of the American Automobile association is to be represented by Henry M. Scharf, Henry W. Garvin, Chamber of Commerce president; N. A. Meligakes, a member of the board of directors, and Glenn C. Bream, member, represented this organization.

The 100-mile extension of the turnpike, from Carlisle to King of Prussia, near Philadelphia, was dedicated and officially pre-viewed at day-long ceremonies, in which prominent state officials, headed by Governor Duff, took part.

A cavalcade of automobiles left the eastern terminus this morning, after ceremonies at the Valley Forge interchange. Similar programs are being conducted at the other interchanges, including the Gettysburg interchange on the Gettysburg-Harrisburg road, at 4:15 o'clock.

At Interchange

A detail from the Gettysburg substation of the Pennsylvania state police augmented other state police at the Gettysburg interchange this afternoon. Cpl. Jack Bartlett was in charge. The others were Pfc. George Ackerson and George Evanko. Actual opening of the turnpike extension is not expected before November 1. Thomas J. Evans, commission chairman said.

HOLD LOST BLANKET

Borough police today had on hand a dark colored blanket left by someone who attended the football game at Shippensburg Friday night. Found after the crowd had left the stadium, it was believed that the blanket was forgotten by a Gettysburg fan.

PAYS $10 FINE

John W. Gladfelter, Biglerville, has paid a fine of $10 and costs on a reckless driving charge filed before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder by borough police.

other games, despite the poor facilities there. This past month those facilities were increased and larger space devoted to them and as a result the number of persons using the YWCA for recreation is expected to treble during the coming year.

The total number of meetings held in the YWCA building during the past year was 576. Mrs. Buchner noted, and the total attendance was 12,604. That number does not include the thousands of people who each year use the parlor of the "Y" as a meeting place, or merely to rest.

In addition the YWCA provides powder room facilities for women and a count made during one Saturday afternoon showed that 267 used the facilities during that time.

On the Freedom Bell placed in Berlin is inscribed, in paraphrase of Lincoln's Gettysburg address, the words "That This World, Under God, Shall Have a New Birth of Freedom."

Chest Drive Has $3,000

Burgess William G. Weaver, chairman of the annual Community Chest drive, today announced that preliminary reports given Saturday night indicate that about $3,000 has been obtained so far in the ten-day drive to raise $22,000 for the support of six local organizations.

Chairman Weaver urged the solicitors to make a special effort to contact as many people as possible before the next "report date," Tuesday evening.

"We urge all people in the area to give generously to this drive," Chairman Weaver noted, "because it is actually six drives in one. We are raising the money needed to carry on the work of the Civic Nurse association, the YWCA, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Recreation Association and County Library, all at one time. As a result those who donate should give enough for six."

Sorority Pledges Are Guests At Tea

Twelve pledges of the Epsilon Delta chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority were entertained Sunday afternoon at a tea held at the home of Mrs. Julius Swope, Baltimore street. The new members will be received into the organization November 9 at a ceremony at the YWCA at which Mrs. E. S. Lewars will become a full honorary member of the sorority.

For the tea the table was decorated with a centerpiece of yellow pompons, candelabra and assorted cookies and nuts. Mrs. Swope poured. Officers of the sorority and the membership committee were in charge.

The pledges include Mrs. Marjorie Foster, Mrs. Jane DeWolf, Mrs. Marie Kuhn, Miss Helen Spangler, Miss Ruth Munroff, Miss Dorothy Wehler, Mrs. Jane Estep, Mrs. Phyllis Hess, Miss Rae Strohm, Miss Peggy Gligous, Miss Gracie Myers and Miss Doris Winters. Mrs. Sally Musselman, a charter member who is rejoining the group, was another honored guest at the tea.

The next regular meeting of the sorority will be held at the home of Miss Doris Smith, 218 East Middle street, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Delone High Paper Wins Press Honors

The Delonehigh, publication of Delone Catholic high school, was awarded "All-American" honors at the recent National Scholastic Press Association contest held for school newspapers throughout the nation.

Published by the students of McSherrystown Catholic high school, and printed by The Times and News Publishing company, the newspaper received a total score of 875 in the judging and thus won the "All-American," or superior rating among senior high schools in the U. S. with an enrollment of between 500 and 699. The judging gave the paper 205 points for news values and sources, 185 points for news writing and editing, 265 points for headlines, typography and make-up and 220 points for department pages and special features.

The judge marking the department pages and special features went out of his way to write in addition to the point score the words: "Good editorials!"

The printing was listed as "excellent" in the score book, as were the editorials, the inside news page, make-up, headlines, front page, makeup, typography, headlines and coverage.

DEATHS

Edward Nelson Koontz

Edward Nelson Koontz, 54, died at his home in Taneytown, Md., Saturday at 12:30 a.m. He was the son of James and Christianna Koontz and is survived by his widow, Mrs. Rosanna Grimes Koontz; three children: John P., of Hanover, Pa.; Mrs. Joseph Leishman, Littlestown; Edward N., Jr., at home, and two grand children; one brother, Charles P. Koontz, of Emmitsburg R. 2; two sisters, Mrs. Samuel Stover, Taneytown R. 2, and Mrs. Chester Holtzapple, of Hagerstown, Md. The deceased had been employed by the Cambridge Rubber company as a carpenter for several years. Formerly, he was a farmer near Emmitsburg. He was compelled to give up active employment about one year ago due to declining health. The family has resided in Taneytown for the past five years.

Funeral services were conducted from the M. C. Fuss Funeral home in Taneytown, Md., today at 10 a.m. with Rev. Philip Bowser, pastor of the Elias Evangelical Lutheran church, of Emmitsburg, officiating.

Mrs. W. J. Corbett

Mrs. Carris O. Corbett, 66, wife of William J. Corbett, Gardners R. 1, died at the Warner hospital Saturday morning at 11:40 o'clock from a complication of diseases. She was admitted to the hospital last Thursday.

She was born near Walkersville, Md., a daughter of the late John H. and Margaret (Poole) Gillis, and was twice married.

Surviving are her second husband; one son, Robert, at home; two children by a previous marriage, Mrs. Jessie Stine and Harvey Hewitt, both of Germantown, Md.; one sister, Mrs. Lillie Humm, Baltimore, and one brother, Walter Gillis, Indiana.

Funeral services Tuesday at 10 a.m. from the Dugan funeral home, Benderville, conducted by the Rev. Dr. O. D. Coble. Interment in Mt. Tabor cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Major Loszewski Is Recovering Slowly

Maj. Chester T. Loszewski, Catholic assistant chaplain with the 28th (Pennsylvania) Infantry division in training at Camp Atterbury, Ind., is gradually recovering the use of his left arm, according to a dispatch from the camp.

Father Loszewski, prior to being federalized with the 28th in September, was chaplain of Paradise protector, near Abbotstown.

Last May, Father Loszewski visited Ireland with the Rev. Fr. George Lavelle, former pastor of St. Aloysius church, Littlestown, now pastor at Lykens, while returning from a Holy Year pilgrimage to Rome. The car in which he was riding hit a bump in the road and tossed him about, injuring his neck muscles.

On his return to this country, Father Loszewski spent five weeks in the Misericordia and Graduate hospitals where an operation was performed to restore the use of his arm, which became partially paralyzed.

Reformed Church Is Packed For "Festival"

A combined choir of 43 voices including choirs of the Reformed, Methodist and Presbyterian churches led a "festival of hymns and music of the church" for a congregation that filled Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church to capacity Sunday evening.

The pastors of the three churches joining for the services took part in the service briefly. The invocation was given by Dr. Howard S. Fox, pastor of the host church, who also spoke on "The Church Militant." The Rev. Henry B. Reiley, Jr., Methodist pastor, spoke on "The Church, the Good Shepherd" and offered prayer. Meditation on "The Church Triumphant" was led by the Rev. Clyde R. Brown, Presbyterian pastor, who also pronounced the benediction. Hymns appropriate to each of the meditation themes were led by the massed choirs. The offertory anthem was "Brother James Air."

The choir trained under the direction of the organists and choir masters of the three churches who took turns at the console Sunday night: Miss Alice M. Snyder, Reformed; Mrs. Elmira S. Deardorff, Methodist; and Phillip E. McGuire, Presbyterian.

VISIT PUMPING STATION

Members of Troop 73, Boy Scouts, visited the Susquehanna Pipe line station west of Gettysburg last week as a part of their participation in Pennsylvania Week, and open house invitation extended by the company. The workings of the plant were explained by Charles Curley, superintendent.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest ten Bensel, Cambridge, Nebraska, who visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton S. Starnes, Aspers, have arrived at their home.

Pennsylvania

In the whole world?" asked Joseph C. Feagley, vice president of the Armstrong Cork company, and chairman of the Pennsylvania Week committee and the crowd shouted louder each time in answer to the three questions. "Adams county."

Burgess's Welcome Read
Henry Garvin, president of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce, read Burgess William G. Weaver's welcome to the train. The burgess was unable to be present because of a death in his family.

"Gettysburg is proud of being a Pennsylvania town; and proud of the historic lore that is ours to add to the vast store of history that belongs to our great state," the burgess's message said. "In the name of our good citizens I bid you, Governor Duff, and the party of distinguished Pennsylvanians with you, welcome to the finest small town in our commonwealth."

The governor, in turn, declared that "I come to Gettysburg often from any other place in Pennsylvania except those where I have to go," and paid tribute to history made here. Adams county was at one time the home of one of the governor's ancestors, he pointed out. "The name Gettysburg has added luster to yourselves, Pennsylvania and the nation," Duff said. "Here one of the greatest battles in history was fought. We are proud of our tradition and we are proud of what Pennsylvania is today."

Thomas Is Speaker

Edmund W. Thomas, president of the First National bank and regional Pennsylvania Week chairman, paid tribute to those who helped make the visit of the train here possible and a success. As his part in the program, Fred G. Pfeiffer, co-chairman of the Adams county committee, gave Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address." Co-chairman with Mr. Pfeiffer was Sidney Poppay.

Another quartet, about as far from the Pittsburghers musically as it would be possible to get, added its bit to the program. They were the four Brownlee sisters of Williamsport, who are really sisters. Their father, guide and teacher, Russell Brownlee, was with them on the train, and was also introduced. Their first number, "I Didn't Know the Gun Was Loaded," was a real hit with the crowd.

Facts On Commonwealth

The program throughout its entire 45 minutes ran the gamut from grave to gay. Governor Duff took the more serious side with facts to make any Pennsylvania proud of his commonwealth. "This train isn't costing you taxpayers one cent," he said. "It is being financed by the railroads of Pennsylvania who carry one-seventh of all the freight shipped by rail in the United States."

The governor pointed out numerous statistics, which, he said, all contribute to make Pennsylvania great.

Two notables who had been on the special for part of its trip were unable to continue to Gettysburg with the train. They included Theodore Roosevelt III, and Ham Fisher, creator of "Joe Palooka."

Meet Train In Carlisle

Regional Chairman Thomas, Co-chairmen Pfeiffer and Poppay and other Gettysburgians joined the party from Gettysburg were Mr. Garvin, Roy P. Funkhouser, treasurer of the local committee, Dr. Lloyd C. Keefeauver, superintendent of schools, Maxwell Bucklew, of the Knouse Foods Cooperative, Inc., Peach Glen, Earl C. Pace, director of radio station WGET, Carleton H. Poole, The Gettysburg Times, and Tommy Cole, photographer for the Lane Studio. Walter Lane, a member of the committee, was unable to make the trip from Carlisle to Gettysburg.

Another feature of the train's program here was the presentation by Mr. Thomas of certificates to Daniel M. Sheely and I. Z. Musselman, in token of the first commercial apple and cherry orchards in Adams county. The recipients will receive their certificates later. It was impossible because of the crowd, to make the presentation at the train.

Mr. Musselman developed the first commercial cherry orchard in Adams county, and Mr. Sheely's father, Noah Sheely, the first commercial apple orchard. From these beginnings have grown Adams county's huge fruit-growing and processing industries.

Copies of N. A. Meligakes' "Spirit of Gettysburg" were presented by Mr. Poppay, on behalf of the author, to principals on the train's program. Apple juice, another Adams county product, was supplied to the train by the C. H. Musselman company, Biglerville, and Biglerville high school girls distributed cups of apple juice to the crowd.

The highlight of the train's trip from Carlisle to Gettysburg was an impromptu show staged in the observation car for the train crew, state police aboard the train, dining car cooks, stewards and waiters and others of the personnel burliesque the regular stage show given at the various stops.

Everyone took part in the hilarity, including the governor and Mr. Feagley.

A tinge of sadness marked the train's departure from Gettysburg at 4:55 p.m. The stars of the show had spent a full week together, enjoying every minute of their journey in spite of five and six shows daily, and the associations were about to end. From Gettysburg to Harrisburg was a comparatively short run for the train, and Harrisburg meant the end. But everyone aboard the train was happy in the oft-expressed sentiment, wherever the train stopped, the audiences were brought a fuller realization of the commonwealth's greatness. The arduous trip was a complete success.

Muhlenberg Hands Bullets 28-7 Lacing; Jackson Stars

Led by the devastating running and line plunging of Elmo Jackson, the strong Muhlenberg football team rolled to a comparatively easy 28-7 victory over the Gettysburg college Bullets here Saturday afternoon before a Homecoming crowd of 3,500 fans.

Jackson tallied two touchdowns for the Mules, one on a 60-yard scamper on the first play after the kickoff in the second half. He plunged over from the 1 midway in the quarter for his second score. Throughout the afternoon he was a thorn in the side of the Bullets and when yardage was needed by the visitors it was Jackson who got it. In 18 tries he averaged 8.5 yards while he also made two beautiful punt returns of 46 and 32 yards.

Muhlenberg dominated play throughout. In the first period they drove from their own 43 for three straight first downs to reach the 23. The drive was stopped when Don Emert tossed England for a long loss on an attempted pass and when the ball was fumbled it was recovered on the 38 by Bill Ewing.

Late in the first quarter Gettysburg took possession on a punt by England on the Bullets' 14. Tom Faulkner, the Bullets' outstanding performer in the contest, broke through the line and ran 20 yards to the 34. He added another first down on the 45 as the second quarter got underway.

Mules Score On Pass
Two plays later Bohs recovered a fumble on the Muhlenberg 44. England then faded back and whipped a pass to Reed who was back of the Gettysburg secondary and he raced over without opposition. Woodworth booted the first of his four extra points via placements.

The Mules threatened again in the period when they reached the 19 but the Bullets held and, following a 10-yard loss by England and a five-yard penalty against the Mules for purposely grounding a pass, England punted into the end zone.

Faulkner broke away to pick up a first down on the 35. Two plays later the Bullets fans were given a thrill when Berkly Ward fired a long pass to Jack Schellhase on the Mule 25 and he was caught at the 20.

With Ward and Bitner alternating in directing plays on a series of substitutions, three straight passes were grounded and Ward was dumped for a nine-yard loss with the half ending seconds later.

Muhlenberg scored in exactly 35 seconds of the third period. After the opening kickoff had returned to the Mule 40, Jackson, on a cut back, raced into the clear and outdistanced the Gettysburg defenders to score.

Gambling on making a first down on their last play with three yards to go, the Bullets lost the ball on their own 41 a few minutes later and the Mules, paced by Jackson and Krautberg, recited off three straight first downs which finally wound up with Jackson plunging over from the 1.

Faulkner Races 67 Yards
The longest run of the afternoon was turned in by Tom Faulkner after nearly 12 minutes of play had elapsed in the third stanza. Faulkner cracked through right tackle on his own 33, broke into the clear and raced 67 yards for the lone local TD. Ward added the point on a placement.

Early in the final period Ingold returned a punt by Jones 20 yards to the Mule from where the visitors smacked through for two first downs with Mills then firing a 34-yard pass to Reed on the goal line for the score.

After a 32-yard runback of a punt put the Bullets in hot water again the threat was smothered when Bob McCoy intercepted a pass and raced out to his 37. The ball changed hands immediately afterwards when Rubbert intercepted a Bullet aerial on the 42 and got to the 18 before being dropped. Three plays netted nine yards as the game ended.

Next Saturday the Bullets will meet Johns Hopkins on the local field.

FAIRFIELD 9 KNOTS SERIES

Fairfield knotted its playoff series with Wensville in the Penn-Adams Baseball league at one game each by scoring a 9-5 victory Sunday afternoon on the Arendtsville field before a good sized crowd.

This evening a decision will be made on the site of the deciding game which will be staged next Sunday.

The victors scored five runs in the second inning and three in the ninth to clinch the victory. Both teams hit hard in the contest with H. Deardorff securing four safeties for the winners while one of June Scott's three hits was a homerun. Allison and Baltzley each secured three hits for Wensville.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Oct. 23 (AP)—Yale's Howard Hobson, who finds the whole world is getting interested in basketball, wants every college and A.A.U. team to plan an exhibition for "National Pan-American and Olympic Basketball Day."

A Madison Square Garden doubleheader with City College of New York, Seton Hall, St. Francis and Rhode Island competing, already has been set for November 25. . . . The purpose of this awkwardly-named occasion, of course, is to get the dough to send United States teams to the Pan-American games next year and the 1952 Olympics. . . . But wouldn't it be simpler to assess the bookies a share of their "take?" They're the ones who make dough on basketball. . . . And, speaking of basketball, what's this story that Mac Kinsbrunner, former St. John's "Wonder Five" player, turned down an offer to become President of the National Basketball Association?

HELP YOURSELF
Since today is when Branch Rickey is supposed to learn what's what from the Dodgers' board of directors (or vice versa), we'll let Brooklyn tub thumper, Harold Roettger, tell one on his boss. . . . Harold was running a farm club in Albany, Ga., for Rickey back in the depression days. . . . They had a 13-man player limit and when injuries decimated the club Roettger had five pitchers filling various positions and then had to sign the bus driver, a 40-year-old semi-pro shortstop. Desperately he wired Rickey: "Must have help. Just had to sign the bus driver." Branch, remembering that Harold once had played American Legion ball, wired back: "Hold yourself ready."

UPSETS THIN "UNBEATEN" IN TOP GRID TEAMS

New York, Oct. 23 (AP)—The ranks of the nation's unbeaten and untied major college football teams, whittled to a mere dozen by a wave of upsets, headed for further thinning this week-end.

The perfect records of Cornell and Princeton will be matched in the Ivy league headlines at Princeton, and one is bound to be sullied.

Northwestern and surprising Miami of Florida will risk unblemished marks against dangerous rivals.

The Northwestern Wildcats, with four in a row, will take their Big Ten campaign to Wisconsin, where they will play a Badger team that was unbeaten until spilled by Michigan Saturday, 26-13.

Miami, the rugged Little David that felled giant-killer Purdue, will go against a winless Pittsburgh that has yet to explode its full might.

Army Seems Safe
Other lead records, including those of top-ranking Army and Oklahoma, appear safe enough for the time being. The list includes Kentucky, California, Southern Methodist, Wyoming, Wichita and Loyola of Los Angeles.

Wisconsin, Washington, Stanford, Rice and Vanderbilt were the powers who fell for the first time Saturday as the sport was rocked again by upsets from coast to coast. Wisconsin bowed to a twice-beaten Michigan team on the rebound from its loss to Army in New York.

Illinois put skids under the highly rated Washington Huskies, who came east to absorb a 20-13 lashing. Bowl-minded Stanford was trapped by Red Sanders' high-charged UCLA eleven at Los Angeles, 42-7.

Navy Beats Southern Cal.
The Rice Owls, defending Southwest conference champions, ran afoul Southern Methodist's powerized Mustangs and succumbed, 42-21. Vanderbilt got started late and lost to Florida, 31-27.

Just to give the topsy-turvy season a further confusing complexion, the once-all-conquering Notre Dame lost its second game of the season, battered Navy rose up to smite Southern California, North Carolina State whipped Maryland and Little Lehigh stunned Dartmouth.

Bobby Robertson, a fleet negro halfback, let the attack that gave Indiana its first victory since 1906 over Notre Dame, 20-7, and handed the Irish their second setback in five seasons.

Navy's forces rallied from three straight defeats to whip Southern Cal., 27-14. N. C. State's victory margin over Maryland, ranked eighth nationally, was 18-13. Lehigh remained unbeaten by slapping favored Dartmouth, 16-14.

Unbeaten Cannors Crush Manheim Borough 38-7

Scoring in every period, Coach Russ Kane's Biglerville high school Cannors scored their seventh straight victory of the season on Saturday by easily defeating Manheim Borough, 38-7. The game was played on the loser's field. Biglerville, again using mostly ground plays, outgained the opponents in first downs, 18 to 9.

The Cannors face their biggest engagement of the season Thursday evening: at Biglerville when unbeaten Palmyra will be played in a game which may decide the Conference of the Roses championship.

Biglerville took the opening kickoff on the 30 yard line, but could go no place with the ball. After an exchange of kicks and a Biglerville fumble, the Cannors finally got their grid machine into gear and started a drive which carried for 75 yards and a score. They worked the ball down field on plunges by Walde, Lawver, Rice and Warner, with Lawver going over from the two.

Spicer's kick was wide. Manheim was able to get nowhere with the kickoff and punted on fourth down as the period ended.

Warner carried the ball to the Manheim 38, but Biglerville was penalized, twice for off-sides and lost the ball on downs. Walde intercepted Shank's pass on the Biglerville 46 and returned it 64 yards for the touchdown. Again Spicer's kick was wide. After the next kickoff Lawver intercepted another of Shank's passes on the 40 and returned it, all the way to the Manheim 8 before he was chased out of bounds. From there short plunges put the ball on the two, from which Walde bucked over the goal line.

Rice's pass to Walde clicked for the point. Manheim took the following kickoff to the Biglerville 40 before losing the ball on downs, just at the close of the half.

After the second half kickoff, there was an exchange of punts before Biglerville could seem to find themselves. After the exchange of kicks, plunges again placed the ball close to the Manheim goal. Warner carried over from the 3. Rice plunged for the point on a quarterback sneak. Just before the third quarter ended, Spicer pilfered another of Shank's aeriels and took it 30 yards for the score. A pass for the point failed.

In the last period Manheim moved the ball into Biglerville territory on some fine passing by Shank. Shank also scored the TD on a plunge from the one. A plunge by Shank netted the PAT. Biglerville took the kickoff and again their ground attack moved the pigskin across the goal. This time Rice scored from the one, and the try for point was not good.

The lineups:
Manheim
Ends—Cassel, Gingrich, Kreider. Tackles—Ober, Stoner, Weaver. Guards—Savitz, Gates. Centers—Bissinger, Evans. Backs—Henry, Stuber, Shank, Longenecker, Derstler, Weidman.

HUNTERSTOWN WINS SP TITLE

Hunterstown copped the playoff championship of the South Penn Baseball league by walloping Green Springs 15-6 Sunday afternoon at New Oxford before a large turnout of fans.

Aided by four walks in the first inning, Hunterstown tallied six times and was never in trouble thereafter. The winners added five more runs in the second frame.

The Green Springs hurlers showed the effects of lack of practice during the long season by issuing 15 passes and hitting one batsman.

Hankey and Little each poled three hits for Hunterstown while C. Wolf also got a trio of safeties for Green Springs.

Emmitsburg Cops League Playoff

Emmitsburg captured the playoff championship of the Penn-Maryland Baseball league by nosing out Middleburg 4-3 Sunday afternoon at Emmitsburg before a large crowd.

Joy hurried the entire game for the winners while he was opposed by Bangs.

The one-run decision was the third one-run affair in the playoffs, Emmitsburg winning the opener 6-5 and Middleburg the second game 8-7 in 10 innings.

GIANTS BEAT BROWNS; COLTS FOLD UP 70-27

New York, Oct. 23 (AP)—The New York Giants, sad sacks for the past three years, have abandoned their wayward ways and once again rank with the elite of the National Football league.

New York's return to the upper brackets can be traced directly to the Cleveland Browns, the former monsters of the defunct all-Africa conference.

It all started on October 1 when the Giants stunned the football world by handing the Browns their first shutout in history, 6-0.

Rams Share Limelight
Yesterday Steve Owen's men proved that their triumph in Cleveland was no flash in the pan. The Giants came from behind and beat the Browns, 17-13, before 41,734 fans in the Polo grounds.

Sharing the limelight with the Giants are the Los Angeles Rams. The Rams set a new scoring record by trouncing the Baltimore Colts, 70-27. The three score and 10 points surpassed the previous high of 65 scored by the Chicago Cardinals on November 13, 1949.

The New York triumph knocked the Browns out of first place in the American conference in favor of the Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles. The Eagles turned back the Pittsburgh Steelers, 17-10. Both the Giants and Eagles boast 4-1 records while the third-place Browns have a 4-2 slate.

Philadelphia averted disaster by scoring 10 points in the final period to wipe out a 10-7 Steeler lead. Steve Van Buren crashed through the line with the winning touchdown.

Redskins In Cellar
Tommy Thompson's passing set up all of Philadelphia's scores. Thompson completed 12 out of 19 passes for a total of 175 yards. Joe Geri had a hand in all of Pittsburgh's scores. He threw a touchdown pass, booted a field goal and a conversion.

The Chicago Cardinals vacated the cellar in favor of Washington by taming the Redskins, 38-28.

In the National conference, the San Francisco 49ers shaded the Detroit Lions, 28-27, to dump the Lions out of third place in favor of Los Angeles.

TRADING QUIET
New York, Oct. 23 (AP)—Trading was a quiet affair today in the stock market with prices moving narrowly. Changes ranged as much as about $1 either up or down, but for the most part the plus and minus signs were confined to a few cents. There was a slight edge on the upside for the market as a whole, but the major groups were in a pretty thoroughly mixed state.

The poultry industry has a dollar rating of 3 1/2 billions.

PA. SPOTLIGHT ON GRIDDEERS OF LEHIGH UNIV.

Philadelphia, Oct. 22 (AP)—There are seven unbeaten college football teams in Pennsylvania today but the spotlight beams brightest on Lehigh's Engineers.

Coach Bill Leckonby took his squad to Hanover, N. H., Saturday to meet Dartmouth of the Ivy league. As they say in horse parlance, Lehigh was stepping up in class. The Engineers took it in stride as they smashed to 16 points in the first half and then stood off a late Dartmouth challenge to win 16 to 14.

Lehigh now has won five straight games and with Franklin and Marshall stands atop the Keystone state won and lost standings. F. and M. racked up win number five of an all-victory season so far, by tripping Albright, 14 to 0. Two Albright fumbles were converted into touchdowns. Other unbeaten teams are Scranton, Carnegie Tech., Thiel, Drexel, Bloomsburg and once-tied Indiana.

Muhlenberg Hands Bullets 28-7 Lacing; Jackson Stars

Led by the devastating running and line plunging of Elmo Jackson, the strong Muhlenberg football team rolled to a comparatively easy 28-7 victory over the Gettysburg college Bullets here Saturday afternoon before a Homecoming crowd of 3,500 fans.

Jackson tallied two touchdowns for the Mules, one on a 60-yard scamper on the first play after the kickoff in the second half. He plunged over from the 1 midway in the quarter for his second score. Throughout the afternoon he was a thorn in the side of the Bullets and when yardage was needed by the visitors it was Jackson who got it. In 18 tries he averaged 8.5 yards while he also made two beautiful punt returns of 46 and 32 yards.

Muhlenberg dominated play throughout. In the first period they drove from their own 43 for three straight first downs to reach the 23. The drive was stopped when Don Emert tossed England for a long loss on an attempted pass and when the ball was fumbled it was recovered on the 38 by Bill Ewing.

Late in the first quarter Gettysburg took possession on a punt by England on the Bullets' 14. Tom Faulkner, the Bullets' outstanding performer in the contest, broke through the line and ran 20 yards to the 34. He added another first down on the 45 as the second quarter got underway.

Mules Score On Pass
Two plays later Bohs recovered a fumble on the Muhlenberg 44. England then faded back and whipped a pass to Reed who was back of the Gettysburg secondary and he raced over without opposition. Woodworth booted the first of his four extra points via placements.

The Mules threatened again in the period when they reached the 19 but the Bullets held and, following a 10-yard loss by England and a five-yard penalty against the Mules for purposely grounding a pass, England punted into the end zone.

Faulkner broke away to pick up a first down on the 35. Two plays later the Bullets fans were given a thrill when Berkley Ward fired a long pass to Jack Schellhase on the Mule 25 and he was caught at the 20.

With Ward and Bitner alternating in directing plays on a series of substitutions, three straight passes were grounded and Ward was dumped for a nine-yard loss with the half ending seconds later.

Muhlenberg scored in exactly 35 seconds of the third period. After the opening kickoff had returned to the Mule 40, Jackson, on a cut back, raced into the clear and out-distanced the Gettysburg defenders to score.

Gamboling on making a first down on their last play with three yards to go, the Bullets lost the ball on their own 41 a few minutes later and the Mules, paced by Jackson and Krautberg, reeled off three straight first downs which finally wound up with Jackson plunging over from the 1.

Faulkner Races 67 Yards
The longest run of the afternoon was turned in by Tom Faulkner after nearly 12 minutes of play had elapsed in the third stanza. Faulkner cracked through right tackle on his own 33, broke into the clear and raced 67 yards for the lone local TD. Ward added the point on a placement.

Early in the final period Ingold returned a punt by Jones 20 yards to the Mule from where the visitors smacked through for two first downs with Mills then firing a 34-yard pass to Reed on the goal line for the score.

After a 32-yard runback of a punt put the Bullets in hot water again the threat was smothered when Bob McCoy intercepted a pass and raced out to his 37. The ball changed hands immediately afterwards when Rubbert intercepted a Bullet aerial on the 42 and got to the 18 before being dropped. Three plays netted nine yards as the game ended.

Next Saturday the Bullets will meet Johns Hopkins on the local field.

UPSETS THIN "UNBEATEN" IN TOP GRID TEAMS

New York, Oct. 23 (AP)—The ranks of the nation's unbeaten and untied major college football teams, whittled to a mere dozen by a wave of upsets, headed for further thinning this week-end.

The perfect records of Cornell and Princeton will be matched in the Ivy league headliner at Princeton, and one is bound to be sullied.

Northwestern and surprising Miami of Florida will risk unblemished marks against dangerous rivals.

The Northwestern Wildcats, with four in a row, will take their Big Ten campaign to Wisconsin, where they will play a Badger team that was unbeaten until spilled by Michigan Saturday, 26-13.

Miami, the rugged Little David that felled giant-killer Purdue, will go against a winless Pittsburgh that has yet to explode its full might.

Army Seems Safe
Other clean records, including those of top-ranking Army and Oklahoma, appear safe enough for the time being. The list includes Kentucky, California, Southern Methodist, Wyoming, Wichita and Loyola of Los Angeles.

Wisconsin, Washington, Stanford, Rice and Vanderbilt were the powers who fell for the first time Saturday as the sport was rocked again by upsets from coast to coast. Wisconsin bowed to a twice-beaten Michigan team on the rebound from its loss to Army in New York.

Illinois put skids under the highly rated Washington Huskies, who came east to absorb a 20-13 lashing. Bowl-minded Stanford was trapped by Red Sanders' high-charged UCLA eleven at Los Angeles, 21-7.

Navy Beats Southern Cal.
The Rice Owls, defending South-west conference champions, ran afoul Southern Methodist's powerized Mustangs and succumbed, 42-21. Vanderbilt got started late and lost to Florida, 31-27.

Just to give the topsy-turvy season a further confusing complexion, the once all-conquering Notre Dame lost its second game of the season, battered Navy rose up to smite Southern California, North Carolina State whipped Maryland and little Lehigh stunned Dartmouth.

Bobby Robertson, a fleet negro halfback, let the attack that gave Indiana its first victory since 1906 over Notre Dame, 20-7, and handed the Irish their second setback in five seasons.

Navy's forces rallied from three straight defeats to whip Southern Cal., 27-14. N. C. State's victory margin over Maryland, ranked eighth nationally, was 16-13. Lehigh remained unbeaten by slapping favored Dartmouth, 16-14.

Unbeaten Cannners Crush Manheim Borough 38-7

Scoring in every period, Coach

Russ Kane's Biglerville high school Cannners scored their seventh straight victory of the season on Saturday by easily defeating Manheim Borough, 38-7. The game was played on the loser's field, Biglerville, again using mostly ground plays, outgained the opponents in first downs, 18 to 9.

The Cannners face their biggest engagement of the season Thursday evening at Biglerville when unbeaten Palmyra will be played in a game which may decide the Conference of the Roses championship.

Biglerville took the opening kickoff on the 30 yard line, but could go no place with the ball. After an exchange of kicks and a Biglerville fumble, the Cannners finally got their grid machine into gear and started a drive which carried for 75 yards and a score. They worked the ball down field on plunges by Walde, Lawver, Rice and Warner, with Lawver going over from the two.

Spicer's kick was wide. Manheim was able to get nowhere with the kickoff and punted on fourth down as the period ended.

Warner carried the ball to the Manheim 38, but Biglerville was penalized twice for off-sides and lost the ball on downs. Walde intercepted Shank's pass on the Biglerville 46 and returned it 54 yards for the touchdown. Again Spicer's kick was wide. After the next kickoff Lawver intercepted another of Shank's passes on the 40 and returned it all the way to the Manheim 8 before he was chased out of bounds. From there short plunges put the ball on the two, from which Walde bucked over the goal line.

Rice's pass to Walde clicked for the point. Manheim took the following kickoff to the Biglerville 40 before losing the ball on downs, just at the close of the half.

After the second half kickoff, there was an exchange of punts before Biglerville could seem to find themselves. After the exchange of kicks, plunges again placed the ball close to the Manheim goal. Warner carried over from the 3. Rice plunged for the point on a quarterback sneak. Just before the third quarter ended, Spicer pilfered another of Shank's aeriels and took it 30 yards for the score. A pass for the point failed.

In the last period Manheim moved the ball into Biglerville territory on some fine passing by Shank. Shank also scored the TD on a plunge from the one. A plunge by Shank netted the PAT. Biglerville took the kickoff and again their ground attack moved the pigskin across the goal. This time Rice scored from the one, and the try for point was not good.

HUNTERSTOWN WINS SP TITLE

Hunterstown copped the playoff championship of the South Penn Baseball league by walloping Green Springs 16-6 Sunday afternoon at New Oxford before a large turnout of fans.

Aided by four walks in the first inning, Hunterstown tallied six times and was never in trouble thereafter. The winners added five more runs in the second frame.

The Green Springs hurlers showed the effects of lack of practice during the long season by issuing 15 passes and hitting one batsman.

Hankey and Little each poled three hits for Hunterstown while C. Wolf also got a trio of safeties for Green Springs.

Other unbeaten teams are Scranton, Carnegie Tech., Thiel, Drexel, Bloomsburg and once-tied Indiana.

Penn State Loses
Scranton humbled Pennsylvania Military college 26 to 0 for its fourth straight win; Thiel racked up win number four by beating Edinboro 21 to 0; Carnegie Tech continued with its best season in many years by making Allegheny its fourth victim, 14 to 13. Bud Kissen's conversion was the difference.

Bloomsburg rapped Shippensburg 26 to 6 in capturing its fourth victory while Indiana bowled over Slippery Rock 16 to 7 for win number four.

Among the so-called major schools, Penn went back to its tricky buck-lateral series to wallop outmanned Columbia 34 to 0; Villanova used Franklin Field while Penn was in New York, but despite the environment, fell 34 to 7 before Kentucky, fourth ranking team in the nation. Penn State took a plane ride to cornhusker country and played a stubborn defensive game before bowing 19 to 0 to powerful Nebraska. Temple scored six points against Wayne in the first period and then waited for a big fourth quarter to score 20 more and wrap up a 26 to 0 conquest.

Duquesne, which has been knocked about by some tough foes despite a lot of high scoring, finally found the answer against St. Bonaventure. The Dukes rocked the Bonnie from the unbeaten with their first win of the season, 25 to 12.

Pittsburgh exploded with 23 points in the fourth quarter against Northwestern but it was a case of too late. Northwestern already had 28 when the Panthers finally found their teeth. It added up to defeat number four for Pitt and with unbeaten Miami (Fla.) coming up next week, the prospect for that first win isn't very bright. Lafayette also found the win column for the first time this season, defeating Delaware 9 to 7.

In other games: Gannon trounced Ashland, 56 to 12; Muhlenberg whipped Gettysburg 28 to 7; Ursinus defeated Swarthmore, 35 to 14; Haverford took Juniata, 13 to 7; Geneva beat Washington and Jefferson, 7 to 0; Bucknell lost to Colgate 23-12; Westminster defeated Grove City, 19 to 0; West Chester blanked East Stroudsburg, 27 to 0; Lebanon Valley won over Moravian, 14 to 8; Kutztown dropped Trenton (N. J.) Teachers from the undefeated 12 to 6; Clarion topped Brockway (N.Y.) Teachers, 22 to 6; Mansfield took Lycoming, 40 to 0; St. Francis scored a 20 to 0 win over Millersville, and Waynesburg missed both conversions to give Niagara a 14 to 12 victory.

end. At 6:55 p.m. Sunday an automobile operated by Uriah W. Sterner, 29, Allentown, struck the automobile of Fred B. Starry, 17, of Aspers R. 1. Both cars were traveling south on the Gettysburg-Harrisburg highway, and Starry made a left turn into the Hunterstown road at the Schriver's Corners intersection directly in front of the Allentown car, police said.

Mrs. Grace Sterner, 29, suffered an abrasion of the forehead and minor bruises. She was treated by Dr. A. A. Kelly of East Berlin at the home of Justice of the Peace Robert F. Bell, Gettysburg R. 4. Damage to the two cars was estimated at $500.

Crash At York Springs
At 1:05 p.m. Sunday automobiles driven by William Henry Felthousen, Jr., 61, of Baltimore, and Jacob Aldene Johnson, 18, of Smithburg, Md., collided at the York Springs intersection.

State police said Felthousen was traveling west on the Hanover-Carlisle road and ran into Johnson, going north on the Gettysburg-Harrisburg highway.

Mrs. Helen E. Felthousen, 59, suffered minor bruises. She was brought to the Warner hospital in the ambulance for treatment. Damage to Felthousen's car was estimated at $175, and to Johnson's car at $200. Felthousen was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Chester Chronister, York Springs R. D., and fined $5 and costs for failing to stop at a stop sign.

Silver service crosses were given to James Groff, Hugh Overbaugh, David Lawrence and Philip Roth, all of McSherrystown.

Given Ad Altare Crosses
Ad Altare Dei crosses, given by the church to the scouts for advancement in the spiritual portion of the program, included the following from McSherrystown, William Hockensmith, George Zimmer, Bernard Lawrence, John Bollinger, Gerald Yantis, Reuben Bahr and Raymond Houck.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Peter S. Huegel, prothonotary and vicar general of the diocese, presided at the ceremony in the absence of Bishop George L. Leech, now in Europe.

In the dedication sermon the Rev. Martin A. Lohmuller, officials of the diocese and assistant pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes church, Enola, stressed the point that while the majority of scouts are too young to preach verbal sermons, nevertheless their lives can be sermons and they can preach to others by living up to the scout oath and law.

Chest Drive Has $3,000

Burgess William G. Weaver, chairman of the annual Community Chest drive, today announced that preliminary reports given Saturday night indicate that about $3,000 has been obtained so far in the ten-day drive to raise $22,000 for the support of six local organizations.

Chairman Weaver urged the solicitors to make a special effort to contact as many people as possible before the next "report date," Tuesday evening.

"We urge all people in the area to give generously to this drive," Chairman Weaver noted, "because it is actually six drives in one. We are raising the money needed to carry on the work of the Civic Nurse association, the YWCA, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Recreation Association and County Library, all at one time. As a result those who donate should give enough for six."

Sorority Pledges Are Guests At Tea

Twelve pledges of the Epsilon Delta chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority were entertained Sunday afternoon at a tea held at the home of Mrs. Julius Swope, Baltimore street. The new members will be received into the organization November 9 at a ceremony at the YWCA at which Mrs. E. S. Lewars will become a full honorary member of the sorority.

For the tea the table was decorated with a centerpiece of yellow pumpkins, candelabra and assorted cookies and nuts. Mrs. Swope poured. Officers of the sorority and the membership committee were in charge.

The pledges include Mrs. Marjorie Foster, Mrs. Jane DeWolf, Mrs. Marie Kuhn, Miss Helen Spangler, Miss Ruth Mundorf, Miss Dorothy Wehler, Mrs. Jane Esley, Mrs. Phyllis Hess, Miss Rae Strohm, Miss Peggy Oigous, Miss Gracie Myers and Miss Doris Winters. Mrs. S. J. Musselman, a charter member who is rejoicing the group, was another honored guest at the tea.

The next regular meeting of the sorority will be held at the home of Miss Doris Smith, 218 East Middle street, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Delone High Paper Wins Press Honors

The Delone, publication of Delone Catholic high school, was awarded "All-American" honors at the recent National Scholastic Press Association contest held for school newspapers throughout the nation. Published by the students of McSherrystown Catholic high school, and printed by The Times and News Publishing company, the newspaper received a total score of 875 in the judging and thus won the "All-American," or superior rating among senior high schools in the U. S. with an enrollment of between 500 and 699. The judging gave the paper 205 points for news values and sources, 185 points for news writing and editing, 265 points for headlines, typography and make-up and 230 points for department pages and special features.

The judge marking the department pages and special features went out of his way to write in addition to the point score the words: "Good editorials!"

The printing was listed as "excellent" in the score book, as were the editorials, the inside news page, make-up, headlines, front page makeup, typography, headlines and coverage.

DEATHS

Edward Nelson Kooztz

Edward Nelson Kooztz, 54, died at his home in Taneytown, Md., Saturday at 12:30 a.m. He was the son of James and Christianna Kooztz and is survived by his widow, Mrs. Rosanna Grimes Kooztz; three children: John P. of Hanover, Pa.; Mrs. Joseph Leishman, Littlestown; Edward N., Jr., at home, and two grand children: one brother, Charles P. Kooztz, of Emmitsburg R. 2; two sisters, Mrs. Samuel Stover, Taneytown R. 2, and Mrs. Chester Holtzapple, of Hagerstown, Md. The deceased had been employed by the Cambridge Rubber company as a carpenter for several years. Formerly, he was a farmer near Emmitsburg. He was compelled to give up active employment about one year ago due to declining health. The family has resided in Taneytown for the past five years.

Funeral services were conducted from the M. C. Fuss Funeral home in Taneytown, Md., today at 10 a.m. with Rev. Philip Bower, pastor of the Elias Evangelical Lutheran church, of Emmitsburg, officiating.

Mrs. W. J. Corbett

Mrs. Carris O. Corbett, 68, wife of William J. Corbett, Gardeners R. 1, died at the Warner hospital Saturday morning at 11:40 o'clock from a complication of diseases. She was admitted to the hospital last Thursday.

She was born near Walkersville, Md., a daughter of the late John H. and Margaret (Poole) Gillis, and was twice married.

Surviving are her second husband, one son, Robert, at home; two children by a previous marriage, Mrs. Jessie Stine and Harvey Hewitt, both of Germantown, Md.; one sister, Mrs. Lillie Kumm, Baltimore, and one brother, Walter Gillis, Indiana.

Funeral services Tuesday at 10 a.m. from the Dugan funeral home, Bendersville, conducted by the Rev. Dr. O. D. Coble. Interment in Mt. Taber cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Major Loszewski Is Recovering Slowly

Maj. Chester T. Loszewski, Catholic assistant chaplain with the 28th (Pennsylvania) Infantry division in training at Camp Aterbury, Ind., is gradually recovering the use of his left arm, according to a dispatch from the camp.

Father Loszewski, prior to being federalized with the 28th in September, was chaplain of Paradise protector, near Abbottstown.

Last May, Father Loszewski visited Ireland with the Rev. Fr. George Lavelle, former pastor of St. Aloysius church, Littlestown, now pastor at Lykens, while returning from a Holy Year pilgrimage to Rome. The car in which he was riding hit a bump in the road and tossed him about, injuring his neck muscles.

On his return to this country, Father Loszewski spent five weeks in the Misericordia and Graduate hospitals where an operation was performed to restore the use of his arm, which became partially paralyzed.

Reformed Church Is Packed For "Festival"

A combined choir of 43 voices, including choirs of the Reformed, Methodist and Presbyterian churches led a "festival of hymns and music of the church" for a congregation that filled Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church to capacity Sunday evening.

The pastors of the three churches joining for the services took part in the service briefly. The invocation was given by Dr. Howard S. Fox, pastor of the host church, who also spoke on "The Church Militant." The Rev. Henry B. Reider, Jr., Methodist pastor, spoke on "The Church, the Good Shepherd" and offered prayer. Meditation on "The Church Triumphant" was led by the Rev. Clyde R. Brown, Presbyterian pastor, who also pronounced the benediction. Hymns appropriate to each of the meditation themes were led by the massed choirs. The offertory anthem was "Brother James' Air."

The choir trained under the direction of the organists and choir masters of the three churches who took turns at the console Sunday night: Miss Alice M. Snyder, Reformed; Mrs. Elvira S. Deardorff, Methodist; and Philip E. McGuire, Presbyterian.

In the whole world?" asked Joseph C. Feagley, vice president of the Armstrong Cork company, and chairman of the Pennsylvania Week committee and the crowd shouted louder each time in answer to the three questions. "Adams county"

Burgess' Welcome Read
Henry Garvin, president of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce, read Burgess William G. Weaver's welcome to the train. The Burgess was unable to be present because of a death in his family.

"Gettysburg is proud of being a Pennsylvania town; and proud of the historic lore that is ours to add to the vast store of history that belongs to our great state," the Burgess's message said. "In the name of our good citizens I bid you, Governor Duff, and the party of distinguished Pennsylvanians with you, welcome to the finest small town in our commonwealth."

The governor, in turn, declared that "I come to Gettysburg oftener than any other place in Pennsylvania except those where I have to go," and paid tribute to history made here Adams county was at one time the home of one of the governor's ancestors, he pointed out.

"The name Gettysburg has added luster to yourselves, Pennsylvania and the nation," Duff said. "Here one of the greatest battles in history was fought. We are proud of our tradition and we are proud of what Pennsylvania is today."

Thomas H. Speaker
Edmund W. Thomas, president of the First National bank and regional Pennsylvania Week chairman, paid tribute to those who helped make the visit of the train here possible and a success. As his part in the program, Fred G. Pfeffer, co-chairman of the Adams county committee, gave Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address." Co-chairman with Mr. Pfeffer was Sidney Poppay.

Another quartet, about as far from the Pittsburghers musically as it would be possible to get, added its bit to the program. They were the four Brownlee sisters of Williamsport, who are really sisters. Their father, guide and teacher, Russell Brownlee, was with them on the train, and was also introduced. Their first number, "I Didn't Know the Gun Was Loaded," was a real hit with the crowd.

Facts On Commonwealth

The program throughout its entire 45 minutes ran the gamut from grave to gay. Governor Duff took the more serious side with facts to make any Pennsylvanian proud of his commonwealth. "This train isn't costing you taxpayers one cent," he said. "It is being financed by the railroads of Pennsylvania who carry one-seventh of all the freight shipped by rail in the United States."

The governor pointed out numerous statistics, which, he said, all contribute to make Pennsylvania great.

Two notables who had been on the special for part of its trip were unable to continue to Gettysburg with the train. They included Theodore Roosevelt III, and Ham Fisher, creator of "Joe Palooka."

Meet Train In Carlisle

Regional Chairman Thomas, Co-chairmen Pfeiffer and Poppay and other Gettysburgians joined the party from Gettysburg were Mr. Garvin, Roy P. Funkhouser, treasurer of the local committee, Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe, superintendent of schools, Maxwell Bucklew, of the Knouse Foods Cooperative, Inc., Peach Glen, Earl C. Pace, director of radio station WGET, Carleton H. Poole, The Gettysburg Times, and Tommy Cole, photographer for the Lane Studio, Walter Lane, a member of the committee, was unable to make the trip from Carlisle to Gettysburg.

Another feature of the train's program here was the presentation by Mr. Thomas of certificates to Daniel M. Sheely and I. Z. Musselman, in token of the first commercial apple and cherry orchards in Adams county. The recipients will receive their certificates later. It was impossible because of the crowd, to make the presentation at the train.

Mr. Musselman developed the first commercial cherry orchard in Adams county, and Mr. Sheely's father, Noah Sheely, the first commercial apple orchard. From these beginnings have grown Adams county's huge fruit-growing and processing industries.

Copies of N. A. Meigs' "Spirit of Gettysburg" were present by Mr. Poppay, on behalf of the author, to principals on the train's program. Apple juice, another Adams county product, was supplied to the train by the C. H. Musselman company, Biglerville, and Biglerville high school girls distributed cups of apple juice to the crowd.

The highlight of the train's trip from Carlisle to Gettysburg was an impromptu show staged in the observation car for the train crew, state police aboard the train, dining car cooks, stewards and waiters and others of the personnel burlesquing the regular stage show given at the various stops.

Everyone took part in the burlesque, including the governor and Mr. Feagley.

A tinge of sadness marked the train's departure from Gettysburg at 4:55 p.m. The stars of the show had spent a full week together, enjoying every minute of their journey in spite of fire and six shows daily, and the associations were about to end. From Gettysburg to Harrisburg was a comparatively short run for the train, and Harrisburg meant the end. But everyone aboard the train was happy in the oft-expressed sentiment, wherever the train stopped, the audiences were brought a fuller realization of the commonwealth's greatness. The arduous trip was a complete success.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

County Commissioners: On Wednesday Jacob Grist, the Commissioner-elect, was duly inducted into office. The new Board organized by the appointment of the Senior member, J. G. Morningstar, Esq., as President, and the re-appointment of J. Aughinbaugh as Clerk.

Jacob King, Esq., who retires from the Board, takes with him the high respect of his fellow-Commissioners.

Jacob Aughinbaugh, Esq., has been re-appointed by the Commissioners, Appraiser of Mercantile Taxes for the County of Adams.

Married: On the 15th inst., by the Rev. Mr. Lockman, Mr. Wm. L. Gitt to Miss Susan, eldest daughter of Mr. Daniel Brown—both of this county.

We learn that Hon. Frederick Watts, of Carlisle, will preside at the next November court in this place.

Remains of General Taylor: The remains of General Zachary Taylor, late President of the United States, will leave Washington City in a car furnished by the Susquehanna Railroad Company, on the morning of the 25th of October, at six o'clock and will reach Baltimore at 8 o'clock where Col. Taylor and Col. W. S. Bliss will take possession of the corpse. They will proceed by way of Harrisburg to Pittsburgh, where they will take the steamer to Louisville. "Old Whitey" precedes the remains of his illustrious master.

There was great excitement at Boston on Friday, on account of some warrants for fugitive slaves having been received. The Negroes of the city mustered strongly, determined to resist to blood, and the excitement was intense.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The "epizooty" has made its appearance in Gettysburg, most of the horses being affected. A horse belonging to Mr. Perry J. Tate, dropped dead on Saturday while being driven to York Springs.

Paper Mill Burnt: On Saturday night the Conowago Paper Mill, near Arendtsville, was destroyed by fire. The fire was discovered about 10:12 o'clock, but had made such progress and the material was so combustible that the building was a mass of ruins within a few hours. It was owned by a stock company who lose heavily. The building and machinery cost about $36,000 and there was about $4,000 worth of stock, paper, rags, etc., in it when it burnt. The building and machinery was insured to the amount of $16,000 in nine different companies.

The fire is supposed to have originated from spontaneous combustion or from incendiarism, as no fire had been used about the mill for some days.

Married: Steinhour-Bittinger.—On the 19th inst., by Rev. M. Bushman, Elias Steinhour to Lou C., daughter of John Bittinger, all of this county.

Harris-Wright.—On the 21st inst., at the residence of the bride's parents, Hiram L. Harris to Miriam G. Wright, all of this county.

Today's Talk

BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

On this North American continent citizenship is something of which every one of us can well be proud. It is an inheritance as well as that has cost many a sacrifice, and hardship beyond description, by those who were pioneers in freedom with a love of liberty.

Here it is that we may think, worship, and vote as our conscience may dictate, and no one can interfere. What a privilege is this citizenship! How we should guard it against any foreign ideology, no matter how disguised. In every election, not only should we register, but vote. And that vote is our sacred right to exercise as we may choose, without the interference of anyone of any government.

I have never understood how anyone who would take the time to register would then fail to vote, yet the record shows that in some instances nearly half of those who register do exactly that. Strange, isn't it? Why did such people register in the first place? It's the actual voting that counts. And how it counts! You have no right to find fault with conditions, that appear to you to be wrong, so long as you do not realistically protest.

What a weapon for freedom and good government is this ballot that a free nation has so generously given to the humblest of its citizens! How can anyone barter it away when it means so much to him and to the nation as well? Citizenship is largely an inheritance, but to vote in a free country is a privilege that should thrill the voter, as it always does that one who loves his country.

Your vote is never thrown away, even though your candidates may be defeated. It isn't always the best candidate, or the best party, that wins. The important act for you is to know that you have voted freely, and as you wanted to vote. You have then fulfilled your obligation to citizenship. Study history. How often minorities have become majorities!

Take pride in that citizenship of yours, and all that it means to you. Never neglect any of its obligations or sacred rights. Always register, where it is essential, and always vote.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Heart Power."

Just Folks

WAITRESS

There's a ring upon her finger,
Just a simple band of gold;
On that hand a tray of dishes that
A coward wouldn't hold.
She takes scorn from many a proud man, silly chatter from a fool.
And the reason why she does it—
is to keep her child in school.

She must play the gracious lady;
keep a smile upon her face.
Of resentment, of ill manners, she must never show a trace.
Were she robed in silk or satin,
men would find her a delight
But to send her child to college she wears sombre black and white.

She never seeks for pity as she does her dreary tasks.
Just respect and mere politeness
I am sure is all she asks.
Just the way you'd treat your sister
(Why not make it now the rule?)
Were she working as a waitress so her child could go to school.

Henry Galbreath has purchased the farm of Margaret Galbreath, deceased, in Straban township, 155 acres, at $21 per acre cash.

William Marshall has sold his farm in Franklin township, 195 acres, to William H. Weikert, of Butler township, for $4,500.

The real estate of David Schwartz, deceased of Littlestown, was sold at public sale. Six acres lying in Germany township, was purchased by Alonzo Sanders for $630, and another town lot was purchased by H. S. Klein for $300. The lumber yards were purchased by Charles Crouse for $890.

On Tuesday evening the "Indian summer" was interrupted by a thunder storm accompanied by a good deal of lightning, which passed over Gettysburg—rather a novelty for the 26th of October. The day had been warm and sultry.

POLITICS AT-A-GLANCE

(By The Associated Press)

Republican and Democratic candidates start final two weeks' campaigning for Nov. 7 election.

Governor James H. Duff said he is leaving Republican harmony efforts to M. Harvey Taylor, Republican state chairman.

Richardson Dilworth defended his labor record against Republican attacks and pointed to endorsement of his candidacy by major labor organizations.

U. S. Senator Francis J. Myers said Duff criticizes spending by National Democratic administration but that Duff's Republican administration has spent as much as all other state administrations up to 1939.

John S. Fine said the present general election campaign has become "a great crusade for Americanism—for preservation of the two-party system."

Vice-President Alben Barkley will campaign in Pennsylvania this week on behalf of the statewide Democratic ticket. He will speak at Scranton and Erie Tuesday, and at Philadelphia and Harrisburg on Wednesday.

POLICE CORDON

part in the trap set up to capture the gangsters.

Operating at the request of Lt. Frank Smith, of the Baltimore detective force, three borough policemen, including Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster, were inside the Acme store on Lincoln Square here from dusk Friday to 3 a.m. Saturday when word was received that the gangsters had been captured. Five policemen were inside the Asco super market at Littlestown and five were in patrol cars between here and Littlestown.

Baltimore detectives had learned that the gang planned to burglarize the Acme stores at Gettysburg, Littlestown, Ocean City, Pikesville, Colgate, Md., and the Belvedere avenue Acme in Baltimore.

Store Well Guarded
But they had not learned which store the Baltimore criminals intended to burglarize first. It was the custom of the gang, the Baltimore police said, to burglarize a number of stores, in different communities on the same night. Previously they started with the one farthest from Baltimore first and worked their way along the road to Baltimore. For that reason the Baltimore police expected the Gettysburg Acme store to be the first one entered, and if they were not captured there they would probably attempt a burglary at Littlestown and work on toward Baltimore.

Local police placed guns in the Acme store early in the day Friday and gave no notice of intention to guard the store during the night. Only those taking part in the wait knew of the expected burglaries.

After dark the policemen entered the store here, at Littlestown and the other stores along the route which the criminals were known to be planning to take.

Trap Is Sprung
At 3 o'clock Saturday morning the local police were notified that the trap had been sprung. The gangsters had changed their usual routine and entered the Baltimore Acme store first. Police there had watched the men climb down a rope from a trap door in the ceiling. They waited until the three men had reached the floor, and then one policeman stepped forward and announced that the burglars were under arrest.

The latter started shooting. At the end of the fray one burglar, Nondo Sternini, 24, was dead; another, Earl Cecil Davis, 26, was wounded.

"I GET WONDERFUL RELIEF NOW FROM HOT FLUSHES"

And Urge Every Woman 38 to 52 Years Old to Read This!

"I had heard so many stories about the functional middle-age period peculiar to women—I hoped I'd escape such symptoms. But I didn't. I found myself terribly embarrassed by hot flushes—I suffered such restless nights, and I could sense myself getting irritable and cranky—due to this cause."

"My druggist recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. I can understand now why he called it 'the woman's friend.' Pinkham's Compound gives me amazing relief. I find if I take it regularly—don't miss a day—it helps build up resistance against such middle-age distress."

P. S. Pinkham's Compound is very tasty in a little fruit juice. Or you may prefer Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS with added iron. Handy to carry in your purse.

WOMAN'S CLUB
GROUP TO MEET

The first meeting of the committee from the Woman's Community club of Littlestown and vicinity, who will make arrangements for the serving of a supper in the Littlestown high school cafeteria, in the near future, will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the cafeteria. Proceeds from the supper will be used to establish a fund to buy new band uniforms for the senior high school band. Members of the club will serve the meal but donations will be accepted from everybody in the Littlestown Joint School district. A bazaar and food sale will be held in connection with the supper, the first in a series of events, to be arranged by the organization of the community in an all out effort to secure sufficient funds for new uniforms as soon as possible.

The club committee is composed of Mrs. Marvin Breighner and Mrs. Melvin Wehler, co-chairman; Mrs. Ralph I. Unger, in charge of the kitchen; Mrs. Charles W. Weikert, Mrs. William H. Marshman, Mrs. Roy Renner, Mrs. Donald Sheely, Mrs. Harry T. Harner, Mrs. Leroy Eish, Mrs. Nellie Held, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Garnet Schellhase, Mrs. Chester S. Third Union Service

The third in the present series of union vesper services was held Sunday evening in Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed church, with the pastor, the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, presiding at the service. The Rev. Mr. Reynolds gave the invocation. The responsive reading and the scripture lesson were in charge of Chaplain Clarence Anderson, who is stationed at Fort George G. Meade and is now attending Captain's school at Carlisle Barracks.

The Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, introduced the speaker, who was his son, the Rev. John W. Kammerer, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, Bolling Springs. The Rev. Mr. Kammerer's message was based on the twenty-second chapter of Matthew "The Great Wedding Feast." Stewart N. Long sang a tenor solo "The Blind Pilgrim." Miss Shirley Gobrecht, church organist, accompanied Mr. Long and also presided at the console for the congregational singing. The Rev. David S. Kammerer pronounced benediction. The service next Sunday evening will be held in Centenary Methodist church and the speaker, secured by the Rev. Kenneth D. James, will be the Rev. Charles E. Held, pastor of the Mt. Joy Lutheran parish.

STARTING BLACK WALNUT TREES

Increasing numbers of inquiries from farmer-readers about how to plant and manage black walnut trees are evidence that interest in this fine timber and nut tree is revived. Because planting may be done before winter, general cultural principles should be studied at this time. Below are offered a few of the most important suggestions needed to start a few individual trees or a large plantation:

Where black walnut trees are grown solely for timber and whatever nuts they naturally produce, propagation by planting nuts is advised. But emphasis should be placed on the fact that trees inherit shape and other habits of growth from parent trees. Therefore, to produce an excellent timber specimen, nuts should be selected from trees measuring up to that standard.

Nuts may be planted in late fall or stratified over winter and planted in late February or early March. Stratification refers to burial in a box or other suitable container in a well drained place, storage in a cool, medium moist cellar, or covering nuts in slightly moist sand. In other words, stratification is actually a ripening process, coupled with adequate moisture to prevent injury to the nut embryo.

If squirrels or other animals are likely to dig up and eat the planted nuts, cut the top out of an ordinary-sized tin can and cut the bottom crosswise at right angles. Push the open top down over the planted nut and then the four corners of the bottom back enough to admit rain and light, also to afford room for the small sprout to emerge. By the time growth is well started, the can will be rusted away.

To grow black walnut trees solely for their nut crops warrants purchasing improved budded or grafted trees from a reputable nursery. There are named varieties which not only bear heavy crop, but the nuts are thin-shelled, large-meated, and otherwise superior to ordinary seedling tree nuts.

Of course, if close attention is given to selection of nuts for planting, heavy yielding trees may be propagated from seedling sources. Again, particular tree characteristics are inherited and transmitted via the plant nut. Many farmers are enjoying excellent revenues from nut sales from seedling trees. However, in the long run, if black walnut trees are planted solely for nut production, improved budded or grafted nursery stock is a wise investment. Such trees may be set out in late fall or early spring.

Spacing influences both timber and nut production in growing black walnut. Close spacing tends to promote tall, straight trunks which bear small foliage heads and limited crops of nuts. On the other hand, liberal spacing stimulates low, spreading types of tree which produces heavy crops of nuts and short but sturdy trunk. Twenty-five feet each way is not too wide for nut production.

As frequently mentioned here, fence rows are ideal locations for this tree, for nuts and timber production alike. Later the trunks may be utilized for fence post roles simply by fastening a 2 by 4 upright against the trunk to prevent nailing wire directly to the wood. Most fence row soils are suitably fertile, deeply mellow, and well drained—the type of soil black walnut likes.

Sow Many Flowers Now to Bloom all Next Summer

A surprising variety of seeds can be sown this fall to provide flowers and vegetables for next spring's garden. They include hardy annual perennial flowers and vegetables, which are not injured by freezing weather.

Seeds of many perennial flowers sown now will germinate earlier and will have a corresponding longer growing season next year. Then, too, the weathering of winter speeds up germination of irises, the gas plant, Dictamnus fraxinella, trolis and phloxes.

Delphiniums, columbines, gailardias, foxgloves, Canterbury bells, peach-leaved hollenders, coreopsis—in fact any of the hardy annuals can be sown this fall. Primrose seed gives much higher percentage of germination if sown in the fall than in the following spring.

Sow the seed in flats or a seed-bed where it may grow along until the plants are sufficient size to transplant. Mulch the beds with some material that will not mat down solidly, such as oak leaves, pine needles, or fresh straw. In the spring the beds may be protected by frames covered with window screen or lath to break the force of driving rains and prevent the tiny seedlings from being washed out.

Cold Frame Will Do
A seedbed surrounded by a wooden curb is an excellent place to sow fall annuals. A cold frame will do as well; and many sow seeds in the open garden, where experience has shown drainage is good.

Sow thinly, mixing small seed with dry sand to help scatter it, and do not sow much deeper than you would in the spring. Many gardeners cover the row with a shallow layer of sand after sowing.

Annuals which are usually successful from fall sowing include allyssum, snapdragons, calachia, callendula, calliopsis, candytuft, centaury, cyanus, clarkia, cosmos, eschscholtzia, euphorbia, gypsophila, larkspur, lupin, nicotiana, petunia, annual phlox, annual poppies and sweet peas.

Annual vegetables which can be sown this fall include lettuce, spinach, and New Zealand spinach. Perennial vegetables such as asparagus, rhubarb and hardy onions are better planted this fall than next spring. Asparagus and rhubarb will be ready to harvest a full year sooner while the onions will produce a harvest next spring.

Other Tips
For the asparagus bed, root, should be obtained and placed in a location which need not be disturbed during the life of the garden. Deep, rich soil is required and the plants should be given three feet each way between hills.

CANTERBURY BELLS.

Rhubarb is another long-lived plant. Six plants will suffice for the average family and they should be placed where they will not be disturbed, perhaps near the asparagus in a garden screen or border.

The hardiest winter onion is the red perennial, sometimes called the Egyptian. This is one of the onions which instead of bearing seeds, produces at the top of the seed stalk a bunch of onion sets. These sets should be obtained and planted this fall, a foot apart; though few families will need more than one row.

This onion never produces a round bulb, but in the spring as soon as the ground thaws, it begins to grow stalks like green onions, part of which have to be pulled up and used leaving a portion of each clump to maintain the bed.

Cut off and burn the old tops of perennials this fall. Don't leave them standing over winter, harboring fungus spores and insect eggs.

The coral lily of Siberia, lilium tenuifolium, is the earliest and brightest of the lilies, a beautiful coral red.

Man, Wife And Son
Die As Home Burns

Huntingdon, Pa., Oct. 23 (AP) — A man, his wife and son died yesterday as flames destroyed their isolated farmhouse.

The wife, Mrs. Mary Fink, 60, made an heroic effort to summon aid. She was found stumbling along a road, her nightgown badly charred. She died in a hospital several hours later.

WOMAN'S CLUB
GROUP TO MEET

The first meeting of the committee from the Woman's Community club of Littlestown and vicinity, who will make arrangements for the serving of a supper in the Littlestown high school cafeteria, in the near future, will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the cafeteria. Proceeds from the supper will be used to establish a fund to buy new band uniforms for the senior high school band. Members of the club will serve the meal but donations will be accepted from everybody in the Littlestown Joint School district. A bazaar and food sale will be held in connection with the supper, the first in a series of events, to be arranged by the organizations of the community in an all out effort to secure sufficient funds for new uniforms as soon as possible.

The club committee is composed of Mrs. Marvin Breighner and Mrs. Melvin Wehler, co-chairman; Mrs. Ralph I. Unger, in charge of the kitchen; Mrs. Charles W. Welker, Mrs. William H. Marshman, Mrs. Roy Renner, Mrs. Donald Sheely, Mrs. Harry T. Harner, Mrs. Leroy Bish, Mrs. Nelle Held, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Garnet Schellhase, Mrs. Chester S. Third Union Service

The third in the present series of union vesper services was held Sunday evening in Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed church, with the pastor, the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, presiding at the service. The Rev. Mr. Reynolds gave the invocation. The responsive reading and the scripture lesson were in charge of Chaplain Clarence Anderson, who is stationed at Fort George G. Meade and is now attending Chalmers' school at Carlisle Barracks.

The Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, introduced the speaker, who was his son, the Rev. John W. Kammerer, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, Bolling Springs. The Rev. Mr. Kammerer's message was based on the twenty second chapter of Matthew "The Great Wedding Feast." Stewart N. Long sang a tenor solo "The Blind Pilgrimage." Miss Shirley Gobrecht, church organist, accompanied Mr. Long and also presided at the console for the congregational singing. The Rev. David S. Kammerer pronounced benediction. The service next Sunday evening will be held in Centenary Methodist church and the speaker, secured by the Rev. Kenneth D. James, will be the Rev. Charles E. Held, pastor of the Mt. Joy Lutheran parish.

STARTING BLACK WALNUT TREES

Increasing numbers of inquiries from farmer-readers about how to plant and manage black walnut trees are evidence that interest in this fine timber and nut tree is revived. Because planting may be done before winter, general cultural principles should be studied at this time. Below are offered a few of the most important suggestions needed to start a few individual trees or a large plantation:

Where black walnut trees are grown solely for timber and whatever nuts they naturally produce, propagation by planting nuts is advised. But emphasis should be placed on the fact that trees inherit shape and other habits of growth from parent trees. Therefore, to produce an excellent timber specimen, nuts should be selected from trees measuring up to that standard.

Nuts may be planted in late fall or stratified over winter and planted in late February or early March. Stratification refers to burial in a box or other suitable container in a well drained place, storage in a cool, medium moist cellar, or covering nuts in slightly moist sand. In other words, stratification is actually a ripening process, coupled with adequate moisture to prevent injury to the nut embryo.

If squirrels or other animals are likely to dig up and eat the planted nuts, cut the top out of an ordinary-sized tin can and cut the bottom crosswise at right angles. Push the open top down over the planted nut and then the four corners of the bottom back enough to admit rain and light, also to afford room for the small sprout to emerge. By the time growth is well started, the can will be rusted away.

To grow black walnut trees solely for their nut crops warrants purchasing improved budded or grafted trees from a reputable nursery. There are named varieties which not only bear heavy crop, but the nuts are thin-shelled, large-meated, and otherwise superior to ordinary seedling tree nuts.

Of course, if close attention is given to selection of nuts for planting, heavy yielding trees may be propagated from seedling sources. Again, particular tree characteristics are inherited and transmitted via the plant nut. Many farmers are enjoying excellent revenues from nut sales from seedling trees. However, in the long run, if black walnut trees are planted solely for nut production, improved budded or grafted nursery stock is a wise investment. Such trees may be set out in late fall or early spring.

Spacing influences both timber and nut production in growing black walnut. Close spacing tends to promote tall, straight trunks which bear small foliage heads and limited crops of nuts. On the other hand, liberal spacing stimulates low, spreading types of tree which produce heavy crops of nuts and short but sturdy trunk. Twenty-five feet each way is not too wide for nut production.

As frequently mentioned here, fence rows are ideal locations for this tree, for nuts and timber production alike. Later the trunks may be utilized for fence post roles simply by fastening a 2 by 4 up, right against the trunk to prevent nailing wire directly to the wood. Most fence row soils are suitably fertile, deeply mellow, and well drained—the type of soil black walnut likes.

Sow Many Flowers Now to Bloom all Next Summer

A surprising variety of seeds can be sown this fall to provide flowers and vegetables for next spring's garden. They include hardy annual perennial flowers and vegetables, which are not injured by freezing weather.

Seeds of many perennial flowers sown now will germinate earlier and will have a corresponding longer growing season next year. Then, too, the weathering of winter speeds up germination of irises, the gas plant, Dictamnus fraxinella, trollius and phloxes.

Delphiniums, columbines, gaillardias, foxgloves, Canterbury bells, peach-leaved bellflowers, coreopsis—in fact any of the hardy perennials can be sown this fall. Primrose seed gives much higher percentage of germination if sown in the fall than in the following spring.

Sow the seed in flats or a seed-bed where it may grow along until the plants are sufficient size to transplant. Mulch the beds with some material that will not mat down solidly, such as oak leaves, pine needles, or fresh straw. In the spring the beds may be protected by frames covered with window screen or lath to break the force of driving rains and prevent the tiny seedlings from being washed out.

Cold Frame Will Do

A seedbed surrounded by a wooden curb is an excellent place to sow fall annuals. A cold frame will do as well; and many sow seeds in the open garden, where experience has shown drainage is good.

Sow thinly, mixing small seed with dry sand to help scatter it, and do not sow much deeper than you would in the spring. Many gardeners cover the row with a shallow layer of sand after sowing.

Annuals which are usually successful from fall sowing include alyssum, snapdragons, cacalia, calendula, calliopsis, candytuft, centaurea cyanus, clarkia, cosmos, echscholtzia, euphorbia, gypsophila, larkspur, lupin, nicotiana, petunia, annual phlox, annual poppies and sweet peas.

Annual vegetables which can be sown this fall include lettuce, spinach, and New Zealand spinach.

Perennial vegetables such as asparagus, rhubarb and hardy onions are better planted this fall than next spring. Asparagus and rhubarb will be ready to harvest a full year sooner while the onions will produce a harvest next spring.

Other Tips

For the asparagus bed, roots should be obtained and placed in a location which need not be disturbed during the life of the garden. Deep, rich soil is required and the plants should be given three feet each way between hills.

Rhubarb is another long-lived plant. Six plants will suffice for the average family and they should be placed where they will not be disturbed, perhaps near the asparagus in a garden screen or border.

The hardest winter onion is the red perennial sometimes called the Egyptian. This is one of the onions which instead of bearing seeds, produces at the top of the seed stalk a bunch of onion sets. These sets should be obtained and planted this fall, a foot apart; though few families will need more than one row.

This onion never produces a round bulb, but in the spring as soon as the ground thaws, it begins to grow stalks like green onions, part of which have to be pulled up and used leaving a portion of each clump to maintain the bed.

Cut off and burn the old tops of perennials this fall. Don't leave them standing over winter, harboring fungus spores and insect eggs.

The coral lily of Siberia, lilium tenuifolium, is the earliest and brightest of the lilies, a beautiful coral red.

County Commissioners: On Wednesday Jacob Griest, the Commissioner-elect, was duly inducted into office. The new Board organized by the appointment of the Senior member, J. G. Morningstar, Esq., as President, and the re-appointment of J. Aughinbaugh as Clerk.
Jacob King, Esq., who retires from the Board, takes with him the high respect of his fellow-Commissioners.

Jacob Aughinbaugh, Esq., has been re-appointed by the Commissioners, Appraiser of Mercantile Taxes for the County of Adams.

Married: On the 15th inst., by the Rev. Mr. Lockman, Mr. Wm. L. Gilt to Miss Susan, eldest daughter of Mr. Daniel Brown—both of this county.

We learn that Hon. Frederick Watts, of Carlisle, will preside at the next November court in this place.

Remains of General Taylor: The remains of General Zachary Taylor, late President of the United States, will leave Washington City in a car furnished by the Susquehanna Railroad Company on the morning of the 25th of October, at six o'clock and will reach Baltimore at 8 o'clock where Col. Taylor and Col. W. S. Bliss will take possession of the corpse. They will proceed by way of Harrisburg to Pittsburgh, where they will take the steamer to Louisville. "Old Whitey" precedes the remains of his illustrious master.

There was great excitement at Boston on Friday, on account of some warrants for fugitive slaves having been received. The Negroes of the city mustered strongly, determined to resist to blood, and the excitement was intense.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
The "epizooty" has made its appearance in Gettysburg, most of the horses being affected. A horse belonging to Mr. Perry J. Tate, dropped dead on Saturday while being driven to York Springs.

Paper Mill Burnt: On Saturday night the Conowago Paper Mill, near Arendtsville, was destroyed by fire. The fire was discovered about 10:12 o'clock, but had made such progress and the material was so combustible that the building was a mass of ruins within a few hours. It was owned by a stock company who lose heavily. The building and machinery cost about $36,000 and there was about $4,000 worth of stock, paper, rags, &c., in it when it burnt. The building and machinery was insured to the amount of $16,000 in nine different companies.

The fire is supposed to have originated from spontaneous combustion or from incendiarism, as no fire had been used about the mill for some days.

Married: Steinhour-Bittinger.—On the 19th inst., by Rev. M. Bushman, Elias Steinhour to Lou C., daughter of John Bittinger, all of this county.

Today's Talk

On this North American continent citizenship is something of which every one of us can well be proud. It is an inheritance as well that has cost many a sacrifice, and hardship beyond description, by those who were pioneers in freedom with a love of liberty.

Here it is that we may think, worship, and vote as our conscience may dictate, and no one can interfere. What a privilege is this citizenship! How we should guard it against any foreign ideology, no matter how disguised. In every election, not only should we register, but vote. And that vote is our sacred right to exercise as we may choose, without the interference of anyone of any government.

I have never understood how anyone who would take the time to register would then fail to vote, yet the record shows that in some instances nearly half of those who register do exactly that. Strange, isn't it? Why did such people register in the first place? It's the actual voting that counts. And how it counts! You have no right to find fault with conditions, that appear to you to be wrong, so long as you do not realistically protest.

What a weapon for freedom and good government is this ballot that a free nation has so generously given to the humblest of its citizens! How can anyone barter it away when it means so much to him and to the nation as well? Citizenship is largely an inheritance, but to vote in a free country is a privilege that should thrill the voter, as it always does that one who loves his country.

Your vote is never thrown away, even though your candidates may be defeated. It isn't always the best candidate, or the best party, that wins. The important act for you is to know that you have voted freely, and as you wanted to vote. You have then fulfilled your obligation to citizenship. Study history. How often minorities have become majorities!

Take pride in that citizenship of yours, and all that it means to you. Never neglect any of its obligations or sacred rights. Always register, where it is essential, and always vote.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Heart Power."

But to send her child to college she

(By The Associated Press)
Republican and Democratic candidates start final two weeks' campaigning for Nov. 7 election.
Governor James H. Duff said he is leaving Republican harmony efforts to M. Harvey Taylor, Republican state chairman.

Richardson Dilworth defended his labor record against Republican attacks and pointed to endorsement of his candidacy by major labor organizations.

U. S. Senator Francis J. Myers said Duff criticizes spending by National Democratic administration but that Duff's Republican administration has spent as much as all other state administrations up to 1939.

John S. Fine said the present general election campaign has become "a great crusade for Americanism—for preservation of the two-party system."

Vice-President Alben Barkley will campaign in Pennsylvania this week on behalf of the statewide Democratic ticket. He will speak at Scranton and Erie Tuesday, and at Philadelphia and Harrisburg on Wednesday.

to be the first one entered, and if they were not captured there they could probably attempt a burglary at Littlestown and work on toward Baltimore.

Local police placed guns in the Acme store early in the day Friday and gave no notice of intention to guard the store during the night. Only those taking part in the wait knew of the expected burglaries.

After dark the policemen entered the store here, at Littlestown and the other stores along the route which the criminals were known to be planning to take.

Trap Is Sprung

At 3 o'clock Saturday morning the local police were notified that the trap had been sprung. The gangsters had changed their usual routine and entered the Baltimore Acme store first. Police there had watched the men climb down a rope from a trap door in the ceiling. They waited until the three men had reached the floor, and then one policeman stepped forward and announced that the burglars were under arrest.

The latter started shooting. At the end of the fray one burglar, Nondo Sternini, 24, was dead; another, Earl Cecil Davis, 26, was wounded;

"I GET WONDERFUL RELIEF NOW FROM HOT FLUSHES

And Urge Every Woman
38 to 52 Years Old to Read This!"

"I had heard so many stories about the functional middle-age period peculiar to women—I hoped I'd escape such symptoms. But I didn't. I found myself terribly embarrassed by hot flushes—I suffered such restless nights, and I could sense myself getting irritable and cranky—due to this cause.

"My druggist recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. I can understand now why he called it 'the woman's friend.' Pinkham's Compound gives me amazing relief. I find if I take it regularly—don't miss a day—it helps build up resistance against such middle-age distress."

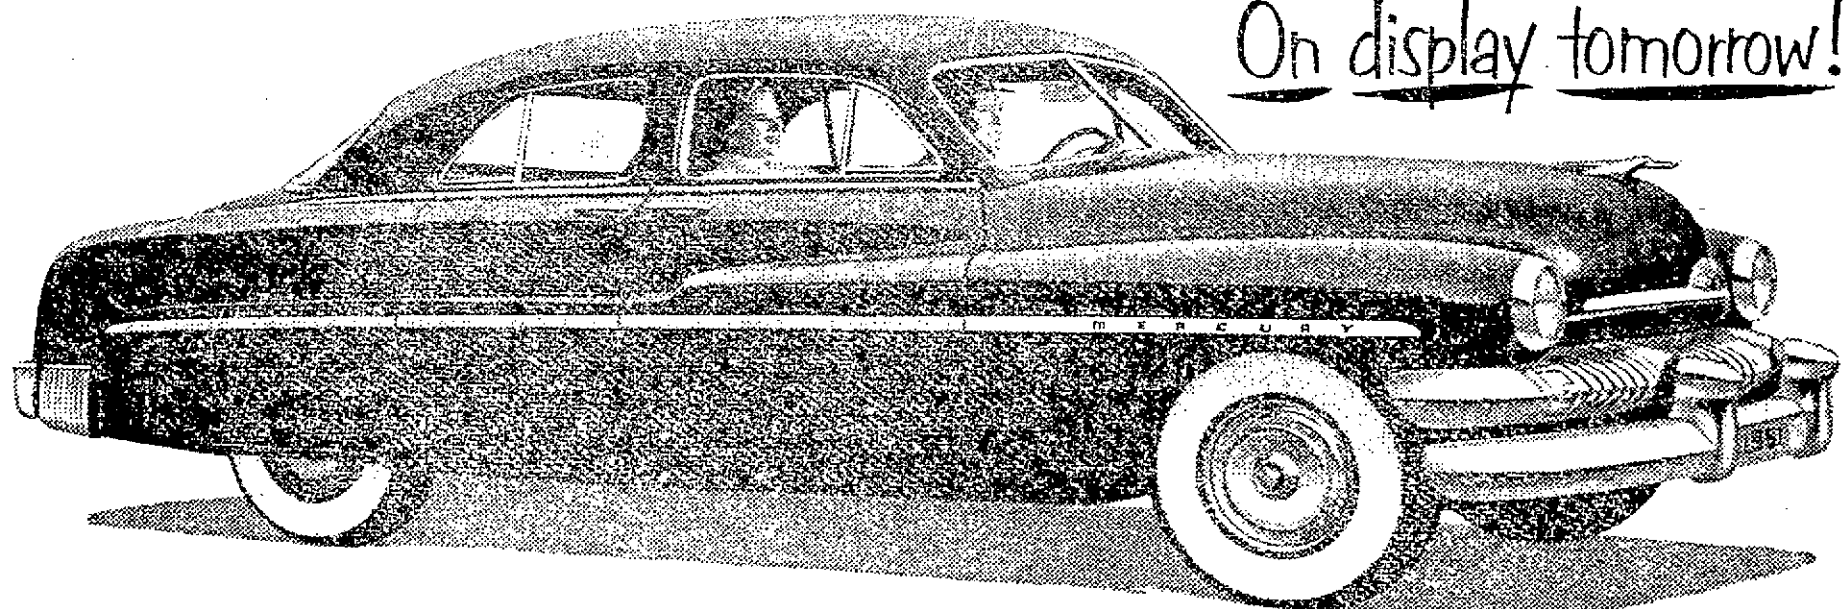

P. S. Pinkham's Compound is very tasty in a little fruit juice. Or you may prefer Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS with added iron. Handy to carry in your purse.

Littlestown THOUSAND SEE PA. WEEK SHOW

Almost 600 people visited the Pennsylvania Week exhibits of farm produce, home economics and needlework, on display in St. Aloysius hall on Saturday, bringing the total number of those who visited the exhibit to approximately 1,000. The exhibit was held under the auspices of the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce, with Charles E. Ritter, general chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the display.

A program was presented on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, beginning with a concert by the Littlestown high school band, under the direction of Paul A. Harner. Samuel H. Higinbotham, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presented Edmund W. Thomas, Gettysburg, regional chairman of the Pennsylvania Week observance committee, who traveled with the special Pennsylvania Week train. Mr. Thomas congratulated the community on the exhibit and extended his appreciation to the committee for their cooperation with the county in putting on the program.

Mr. Higinbotham also presented Mrs. William Lipsey, a member of the exhibit committee, who introduced Miss Louise Frazier, Gettysburg, home demonstrator with the manufacturer's Light and Heat company, who spoke briefly, bringing greetings and congratulations. The program concluded with several selections by the band. A group of Boy Scouts, from Littlestown Troop No. 84, were present Friday and Saturday evenings in the hall, to give pencils to the school children who visited the display and to assist in recording the "guess" of each visitor as to the number of grains of corn in a jar, for which an award was given.

The October meeting of the borough council of the borough of Littlestown will be held on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, in the office of the borough secretary, Roger J. Keefer, North Queen street.

Initiation of several new members will be held in connection with the weekly meeting of the Littlestown Rotary club on Tuesday evening at 6:15 o'clock in the banquet hall of Schott's hotel.

The semi-monthly meeting of the Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be held Tuesday evening in the post home on West King street at 8 o'clock.

Miss Kathryn Shriver, Swarthmore, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shriver, and daughters, Doris, Linda and Ann, Lancaster, spent Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Shriver, East King street.

Miss Shirley Hawk, a student at Westchester State Teachers college, spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Hawk, East King street.

A Halloween party will be held on Tuesday evening in the social hall of St. John's Lutheran church by the members of the Christian Endeavor society of the church.

Sunday evening dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gouker and daughter, Mary Gail Cemetery street, included Mrs. Gouker's brothers and sisters-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. John W. Kammerer, and daughters, Mary Catherine and Margaret Elaine, Boiling Springs; Mr. and Mrs. David S. Kammerer, Jr., and daughters, Julie Ann and Deborah, and her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. David S. Kammerer.

Factory Worker Kills German War Bride

Pittsburgh, Oct. 23 (AP)—A factory worker killed his German war bride with a souvenir pistol last night and then used the weapon to take his own life, according to Detective Charles McInerney. The victims were identified as Alexander Hyzak, 42-year-old World War II veteran, and his wife, Maria, 21.

McInerney said Hyzak took his own life before the eyes of his younger brother and while Hyzak's 13-month-old son slept in his crib in the couple's one-room second floor apartment. The detective said the younger brother, Edward Hyzak, 23, gave this account of the tragedy:

"I heard an argument between my brother and his wife after she had come home from the movies. Then I heard a shot. I rushed upstairs. When I entered the room, I saw Maria on the floor. Before I could say or do anything, Alexander put the gun to his head and fired."

Errol Flynn Weds For Third Time

Monte Carlo, Monaco, Oct. 23 (AP)—Actor Errol Flynn, 41, and 24-year-old Patricia Wymore were married today in the Monaco City hall. It was the third marriage for the Tasmanian-born actor and the first for his Salina, Kansas, bride. The morning civil marriage was to be followed at 4 p.m. (10 A.M. EST) by a religious ceremony at nearby Nice, in the Lutheran Church of the Transfiguration.

The first iron railroad bridge in the United States was built near Manayunk on the outskirts of Philadelphia in 1845.

Says U. S. Used All Resources In Korea

Pittsburgh, Oct. 23 (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark, Army field forces chief, says the U.S. "scraped the bottom of the barrel" and left only a mobilization base in this country to carry on the Korean campaign.

Speaking before the Variety club of Pittsburgh last night, Gen. Clark said the U.S. "told the world we had 10 divisions before the outbreak of the war in Korea." Those divisions, he said, were only two-thirds of full strength and underequipped.

Decriing the "over-optimistic reports" of new weapons, the hero of the allied fighting in Italy, said "we fought the Korean war with the weapons of World War II."

"We do have new weapons in the making," he said, "but it will be seven or eight months or two or three years before they will be produced in quantity."

RESCUE THREE FROM NEW CAVE

Harlansburg, Pa., Oct. 23 (AP)—Three young "explorers" and a small dog were rescued today after their flashlights failed while they wandered through the maze-like passage ways of a new found cavern.

Apparently none the worse for their 12-hour stay in the bat-filled tunnels of the cave were: Herbert Harkless, 12; Eddie McClelland, 16-year-old son of a funeral director; Ernest Mallinak, 26, a construction company employee, and "Andy," year-old cocker spaniel owned by young McClelland.

The plight of the three turned this western Pennsylvania town of 500 out in full force to aid in the search. About 1,500 men and women from surrounding communities also gathered at the cavern entrance as the word spread.

Young Harkless, McClelland and Mallinak went into the big cavern about 2 p.m., EST, yesterday to look for unusual rock and crystal formations. The cave was first discovered a short time ago during some nearby highway construction work and in recent weeks a number of persons have visited it.

The McClelland boy said he had gone into the cavern three times before yesterday and was certain he could find his way about. They wandered through underground chambers and passageways to a point about 1,800 feet from the entrance. As they started back, all three of their carbide lights failed one after another. Left in pitch darkness, they decided to sit down and wait for rescuers.

"They told me it was about midnight," Herbert Harkless said, "and I was tired and cold. Then I heard some yelling later and I knew they were coming to get us. I felt better."

SURVIVORS OF RED MASSACRE OF PRISONERS ARE RESCUED

By DON WHITEHEAD

Sunchon, North Korea, Oct. 23 (AP)—Survivors of the Sunchon tunnel massacre were saved because a brigadier general dared to push into Communist territory to check a report that American prisoners of war had been killed by North Korean Reds.

At least 68 American Prisoners were slain by their Red guards Friday night near the Sunchon railway tunnel, 10 miles north of here.

They had been led from a train into nearby fields under the pretext that they were being taken for supper. The guards machinegunned them. Sixty-six prisoners died on the spot. Two others died during the night of their wounds. At least 21 many of them wounded, lived through the hour-long massacre.

Had Brig. Gen. Frank A. Allen of Cleveland, Ohio, not been so persistent many of the wounded undoubtedly would not have survived the bitterly cold night.

This is the way "the atrocity was discovered:

As assistant divisional commander of the U. S. First Cavalry Division, Allen decided Saturday to drive by jeep from Pyongyang to Sunchon to check on the progress of the task force driving north. This task force from the First Cavalry Division had gone north to link up with American paratroopers who had dropped near Sunchon. I went with them.

At Sunchon we heard the report of a massacre at a railroad tunnel. No one had any specific information and this appeared to be just another rumor. But Allen was determined to run it down. "I'd never felt right about it," he said, "if we don't do all we can to find out about this."

The general stopped at the headquarters of the South Korean Sixth Division and requested a guide to the tunnel. At that time we had no troops in this area.

The South Koreans provided a guide and we headed for the tunnel. A South Korean colonel found the first seven bodies. Men who had starved to death had been laid beside the railroad track. And then we began finding the survivors and the bodies of the men murdered by the Koreans.

One gaunt wounded boy—Pfc. Valdor John of Milwaukee—stood trembling while waiting for someone to help him over a ridge. "I'm cold," he said apologetically. Allen quickly took off his jacket and draped

Littlestown

Littlestown—Sunday was Mission Sunday and a special offering for the missions was received at both of the morning masses in St. Aloysius church. The pastor, the Rev. Edward J. Shanahan, read a pastoral letter regarding the missions, from the bishop of Harrisburg. Report cards were distributed by the pastor, following the masses to the students from the congregation, who attended Delone Catholic high school.

The pastor announced that a Month's Mind high mass will be offered on Thursday morning at 8 o'clock, for the repose of the soul of Pvt. Fred K. Myers, who was killed in action in Korea on September 26. Saturday, the feast day of St. Jude, the intention of the mass will be for the spiritual and temporal welfare of the members of the congregation. A Triduum of prayer will begin in St. Aloysius church next Sunday.

Mrs. Edwin W. Elder, Jr., children, Edwin III, and Jacqueline, Park avenue, spent the week-end with Mrs. Elder's parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Elder, Sr., Baltimore. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Collins, daughter Betty, Towson, Md., visited on Sunday with the Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth D. James at St. John's Lutheran parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Edgar Yealy, West King street, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jean Elinor, to Robert B. DeGroot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter DeGroot, Prince street.

A public Halloween party will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the parish house of St. James Reformed church, along the Harney road, sponsored by the young people of the church.

The Rev. Kenneth D. James, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, announced at the morning worship service on Sunday that there will be a meeting on Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the church, of all children of the congregation, ages it about the boy's shoulders.

"I'm promoting you to a one-star general," Allen smiled.

John said: "But I'm awfully dirty, sir. And I'm pretty lousy."

Allen replied: "Don't you worry about that."

Slowly the men moved over the ridge—pitifully emaciated figures whose clothing hung in folds from their starved bodies. The wounded were carried in litters improvised from mats and poles. Survivors were put on trucks brought up by the South Koreans and taken back down the road to Sunchon.

Sunday morning the South Koreans organized a task force with troop protection to bring the survivors of the massacre to Pyongyang. As the trucks passed American troops the survivors were showered with cigarettes, chewing gum, and candy.

3 Children, Baby Sitter Die In Fire

York, Pa., Oct. 23 (AP)—Firemen sought today to determine the cause of a fire which gutted a country estate home near here, killing three children and an aged groom, acting as baby sitter. The victims were Sharon Hardinge, five, and her sisters, Florence three and Ann two, and James Zink, 68.

The four died of suffocation when fire swept the three-story, white brick country house Saturday night of James T. Duffy, Jr., well-known York manufacturer and horseman.

John Eby, nearby Spring Garden township fire chief, said firemen are still investigating the cause of the blaze.

Mrs. Margaret Hardinge, mother of the children, who was visiting a neighbor at the time of the blaze, required hospital treatment when she collapsed after learning of the tragedy. The father, Sgt. Byron Hardinge, who is in the Army Engineering corps at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., flew here yesterday.

six to sixteen, for the purpose of organizing a junior and an intermediate choir.

Members of the Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed church, who expect to attend the annual consistorial banquet of this area, to be held on Thursday, November 2, at 6:45 o'clock, in Arendsville, should make their reservations with the pastor, the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds. This announcement was made at the morning worship service on Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Reynolds also announced that the confirmation instruction this week will take place after school on Tuesday in the social room of the church, instead of Tuesday evening. The senior high school Sunday school class, taught by Stewart N. Long, will have a Halloween party in the social hall this evening at 8 o'clock. The members of the Young Men's Bible class will have a Halloween party on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Their wives or friends are invited. A vegetable soup sale will be held by the Ladies Aid society of Redeemer's church on Friday, beginning at 4 o'clock. Patrons are asked to take their own containers and orders may be given by calling Mrs. Charles A. Hofe or Mrs. A. C. Garland. Those wishing to donate vegetables are requested to take them to the church kitchen on Thursday evening.

The Halloween party scheduled for the Children's department of the Sunday school for Friday evening at 7 o'clock, has been postponed to Tuesday, October 31, at the same hour.

Following the worship service, the Rev. Mr. Reynolds baptized Janice Louise Claybaugh, infant daughter of Ray Edward and Wanda Shanebrook Claybaugh, Prince street, who was born on August 4, Gettysburg.

Emmitsburg

WARTHEN-JONES WEDDING HELD

Miss Kathleen Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crit Jones, of Salem, Ind., and Detroit, and John Warthen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Warthen, West Main street, Emmitsburg, were married Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in St. Joseph's Catholic church, Emmitsburg. The Rev. Francis Stauble, pastor of the groom officiated at the double ring ceremony which was attended by a large number of relatives, and friends.

The bride wore a dark green wool suit with a fine brown check, brown accessories and a white orchid corsage. She chose for her matron of honor her sister, Mrs. Raymond Baker, who wore a tan wool suit, brown accessories and a yellow rosebud corsage. Michael Bobanic, Aliquippa, Pa., brother-in-law of the groom served as best man.

The groom's mother wore a taupe crepe dress, fur neckpiece, brown accessories and a talisman rosebud corsage. Two large baskets of fall flowers were used for decorations, one on each side the sanctuary gates.

The traditional wedding marches were played by the church organist, Mrs. Euphemia Rotering, and the soloist was Mrs. Charles E. Eckenrode, aunt of the groom, who sang "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother" and "Mother at Your Feet We're Kneeling."

The bride has been living in Emmitsburg for the past year and a half with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baker. She is a graduate of Salem high school, Salem, Ind., and attended Thompson's Business school, York. The groom is a veteran of World War II, having served in the navy, spending over a year at Guam. He is now employed with his father as a plasterer.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the newly furnished home of the young couple, the property of Mrs. Ora Wagerman. Approximately 75 guests attended the reception.

The young couple left on a wedding trip to Detroit to visit with the bride's parents and will be at home to their friends about November 1.

Friends and relatives from Gettysburg, Baltimore, Aliquippa, Washington and St. Anthony's attended the wedding.

Philadelphia, Oct. 23 (AP)—Inspector John T. Murphy officially took over the command of the Philadelphia police vice squad today.

Several hours later he was scheduled to make his second appearance before a federal grand jury investigating racketeering and gambling in eastern Pennsylvania.

Murphy was named head of the vice squad last week following the suicide of inspector Craig D. Ellis, who commanded the unit for 10 years.

Bridgeton, N. J., Oct. 23 (AP)—The prosecution is expected to introduce five confessions today allegedly made by Theodore Carter when he was picked up for the strangle-murder of pretty Lorraine Hesse.

The purported statements, including a 30-minute wire recording made of the 18-year-old factory hand, have been attacked by his attorneys as the product of "police methods."

Imperial...in every sense of the word!

Imperial . . . every powerful, gleaming inch of it, Imperial . . . it is the only word that comes to mind when you see the luxurious fabrics and appointments inside. Imperial . . . is the way you feel as individual motors raise and lower your windows. Imperial . . . is the only word that describes your command of the road as you drive. Imperial by Chrysler is the wholly new car that is setting a new goal for every family with the taste and the experience in motor cars to recognize unrivaled built-in value all the way through. It is the first car in America to make no compromise with quality . . . the only car to consider if you want the finest. We'll welcome an opportunity to let the Imperial prove it.

See it — drive it . . . there's built-in value all the way through!

Chrysler's Advantages In Comfort and Safety	Functional Design —full room for your head, legs, shoulders. Easy to enter and leave! Safe Guard Hydraulic Brakes —smoother stops. Easy-Lock Parking Brake —holds car on any hill. Electrically Operated Windshield Wipers —constant speed all the time! Chair Height Seats —no crouching, you sit naturally! Safety Rails —won't throw tires after blowouts at normal speeds. Double-width Arm Rest —for arm chair comfort.
Advantages of Chrysler's Fluid Drive	Automatic Gear Shifting —with full control of your car! Better traction —safer on slippery roads. Convenience of clutch for easier parking. Slower Engine Speeds —reduced noise, wear. Saves gasoline! Drive in high while others drive in low in traffic.
Advantages of Chrysler's High Compression Spitfire Engine!	Waterproof Ignition —prevents stalling in rain or high water! Chemically Treated Cylinder Walls —for greater wear. Floating Power —helps eliminate vibration. Superfinished Parts —reduce friction, last longer. Exhaust Valve Seat Inserts —reduce need for valve grinding! Full Flow Oil Filter —keeps oil clean longer!

THOUSAND SEE
PA. WEEK SHOW

Almost 600 people visited the Pennsylvania Week exhibits of farm produce, home economics and needlework, on display in St. Aloysius hall on Saturday, bringing the total number of those who visited the exhibit to approximately 1,000. The exhibit was held under the auspices of the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce, with Charles E. Ritter, general chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the display.

A program was presented on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, beginning with a concert by the Littlestown high school band, under the direction of Paul A. Harner. Samuel H. Higginbotham, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presented Edmund W. Thomas, Gettysburg, regional chairman of the Pennsylvania Week observance committee, who traveled with the special Pennsylvania Week train. Mr. Thomas congratulated the community on the exhibit and extended his appreciation to the committee for their cooperation with the county in putting on the program.

Mr. Higginbotham also presented Mrs. William Lippy, a member of the exhibit committee, who introduced Miss Louise Frazier, Gettysburg, home demonstrator with the manufacturer's Light and Heat company, who spoke briefly, bringing greetings and congratulations. The program concluded with several selections by the band. A group of Boy Scouts, from Littlestown Troop No. 84, were present Friday and Saturday evenings in the hall, to give pencils to the school children who visited the display and to assist in recording the "guess" of each visitor as to the number of grains of corn in a jar, for which an award was given.

The October meeting of the borough council of the borough of Littlestown will be held on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, in the office of the borough secretary, Roger J. Keefer, North Queen street.

Imitation of several new members will be held in connection with the weekly meeting of the Littlestown Rotary club on Tuesday evening at 6:15 o'clock in the banquet hall of Schott's hotel.

The semi-monthly meeting of the Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be held Tuesday evening in the post home on West King street at 8 o'clock.

Factory Worker Kills
German War Bride

Pittsburgh, Oct. 23 (AP)—A factory worker killed his German war bride with a souvenir pistol last night and then used the weapon to take his own life, according to Detective Charles McInerney. The victims were identified as Alexander Hyzak, 42-year-old World War II veteran, and his wife, Maria, 21.

McInerney said Hyzak took his own life before the eyes of his younger brother and while Hyzak's 13-month-old son slept in his crib in the couple's one-room second floor apartment. The detective said the younger brother, Edward Hyzak, 23, gave this account of the tragedy.

"I heard an argument between my brother and his wife after she had come home from the movies. Then I heard a shot. I rushed upstairs. When I entered the room, I saw Maria on the floor. Before I could say or do anything, Alexander put the gun to his head and fired."

Errol Flynn Weds
For Third Time

Monte Carlo, Monaco, Oct. 23 (AP)—Actor Errol Flynn, 41, and 24-year-old Patricia Wymore were married today in the Monaco City hall. It was the third marriage for the Tasmanian-born actor and the first for his Salina, Kansas, bride. The morning civil marriage will be followed at 4 p.m. (10 A.M. EST) by a religious ceremony at nearby Nice, in the Lutheran Church of the Transfiguration.

Says U. S. Used All
Resources In Korea

Pittsburgh, Oct. 23 (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark, Army field forces chief, says the U.S. "scraped the bottom of the barrel" and left only a mobilization base in this country to carry on the Korean campaign.

Speaking before the Variety club of Pittsburgh last night, Gen. Clark said the U.S. "lost the world we had 10 divisions before the outbreak of the war in Korea." Those divisions, he said, were only two-thirds of full strength and under-equipped.

Decrying the "over-optimistic reports" of new weapons, the hero of the allied fighting in Italy, said "we fought the Korean war with the weapons of World War II."

"We do have new weapons in the making," he said, "but it will be seven or eight months or two or three years before they will be produced in quantity."

RESCUE THREE FROM NEW CAVE

Harlansburg, Pa., Oct. 23 (AP)—Three young "explorers" and a small dog were rescued today after their flashlights failed while they wandered through the maze-like passageways of a new found cavern.

Apparently none the worse for their 12-hour stay in the bat-filled tunnels of the cave were: Herbert Harkless, 12; Eddie McClelland, 16-year-old son of a funeral director; Ernest Mallinak, 26, a construction company employee, and "Andy," year-old cocker spaniel owned by young McClelland.

The plight of the three turned this western Pennsylvania town of 500 out in full force to aid in the search. About 1,500 men and women from surrounding communities also gathered at the cavern entrance as the word spread.

Young Harkless, McClelland and Mallinak went into the big cavern about 2 p.m., EST, yesterday to look for unusual rock and crystal formations. The cave was first discovered a short time ago during some nearby highway construction work and in recent weeks a number of persons have visited it.

The McClelland boy said he had gone into the cavern three times before yesterday and was certain he could find his way about. They wandered through underground chambers and passageways to a point about 1,800 feet from the entrance. As they started back, all three of their carbide lights failed one after another. Left in pitch darkness, they decided to sit down and wait for rescuers.

"They told me it was about midnight," Herbie Harkless said, "and I was tired and cold. Then I heard some yelling later and I knew they were coming to get us. I felt better."

SURVIVORS OF
OF PRISONERS
ARE RESCUED

By DON WHITEHEAD

Sunchon, North Korea, Oct. 23 (AP)—Survivors of the Sunchon tunnel massacre were saved because a brigadier general dared to push into Communist territory to check a report that American prisoners of war had been killed by North Korean Reds.

At least 68 American prisoners were slain by their Red guards Friday night near the Sunchon railway tunnel, 10 miles north of here.

They had been led from a train into nearby fields under the pretext that they were being taken for supper. The guards machinegunned them. Sixty-six prisoners died on the spot. Two others died during the night of their wounds. At least 21, many of them wounded, lived through the hour-long massacre.

Had Brig Gen Frank A. Allen of Cleveland, Ohio, not been so persistent many of the wounded undoubtedly would not have survived the bitterly cold night.

This is the way the atrocity was discovered.

As assistant divisional commander of the U. S. First Cavalry Division, Allen decided Saturday to drive by jeep from Pyongyang to Sunchon to check on the progress of the task force driving north. This task force had gone north to link up with American paratroopers who had dropped near Sunchon. I went with them.

Heard Rumor of Massacre
At Sunchon we heard the report of a massacre at a railroad tunnel. No one had any specific information and this appeared to be just another rumor. But Allen was determined to run it down. "I'd never feel right about it," he said, "if we don't do all we can to find out about this."

The general stopped at the headquarters of the South Korean Sixth Division and requested a guide to the tunnel. At that time we had no troops in the area.

The South Koreans provided a guide and we headed for the tunnel. A South Korean colonel found the first seven bodies. Men who had starved to death had been laid beside the railroad track. And then we began finding the survivors and the bodies of the men murdered by the Koreans.

One gaunt wounded boy—Pfc. Valdor John of Milwaukee—stood trembling while waiting for someone to help him over a ridge. "I'm cold," he said apologetically. Allen quickly took off his jacket and draped

Littlestown

Littlestown—Sunday was Mission Sunday and a special offering for the missions was received at both of the morning masses in St. Aloysius church. The pastor, the Rev. Edward J. Shanahan, read a pastoral letter regarding the missions, from the bishop of Harrisburg. Report cards were distributed by the pastor, following the masses to the students from the congregation, who attend a Delone Catholic high school.

The pastor announced that a Month's Mind high mass will be offered on Thursday morning at 8 o'clock, for the repose of the soul of Rt. Rev. K. Myers, who was killed in action in Korea on September 28, Saturday, the feast day of St. Jude, the intention of the mass will be for the spiritual and temporal welfare of the members of the congregation. A Triduum of prayer will begin in St. Aloysius church next Sunday.

Mrs. Edwin W. Elder, Jr., children, Edwin III, and Jacqueline, Park avenue, spent the week-end with Mrs. Elder's parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Elder, Sr., Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Collins, daughter Betty, Towson, Md., visited on Sunday with the Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth D. James at St. John's Lutheran parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Edgar Yealy, West King street, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jean Elinor, to Robert B. DeGroff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter DeGroff, Prince street.

A public Halloween party will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the parish house of St. James Reformed church, along the Harney road, sponsored by the young people of the church.

The Rev. Kenneth D. James, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, announced at the morning worship service on Sunday that there will be a meeting on Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the church, of all children of the congregation, ages

it about the boy's shoulders.

"I'm promoting you to a one-star general," Allen smiled.

John said: "But I'm awfully dirty."

Allen replied: "Don't you worry about that."

Slowly the men moved over the ridge—pitifully emaciated figures whose clothing hung in folds from their starved bodies. The wounded were carried in litters improvised from mats and poles. Survivors were put on trucks brought up by the South Koreans and taken back down the road to Sunchon.

Sunday morning the South Koreans organized a task force with troop protection to bring the survivors of the massacre to Pyongyang. As the trucks passed American troops the survivors were showered with cigarettes, chewing gum, and candy.

3 Children, Baby
Sitter Die In Fire

York, Pa., Oct. 23 (AP)—Firemen sought today to determine the cause of a fire which gutted a country estate home near here, killing three children and an aged groom, acting as baby sitter. The victims were Sharon Hardinge, five, and her sisters, Florence three and Ann two, and James Zink, 68.

The four died of suffocation when fire swept the three-story, white brick country house Saturday night of James T. Duffy, Jr., well-known York manufacturer and horseman. John Eby, nearby Spring Garden township fire chief, said firemen are still investigating the cause of the blaze.

Mrs. Margaret Hardinge, mother of the children, who was visiting a neighbor at the time of the blaze, required hospital treatment when she collapsed after learning of the tragedy. The father, Sgt. Byron Hardinge, who is in the Army Engineering corps at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., flew here yesterday.

Members of the Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed church, who expect to attend the annual constitutional banquet of this area, to be held on Thursday, November 2, at 6:45 o'clock, in Arendtsville, should make their reservations with the pastor, the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds. This announcement was made at the morning worship service on Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Reynolds also announced that the confirmation instruction this week will take place after school on Tuesday in the social room of the church, instead of Tuesday evening. The senior high school Sunday school class, taught by Stewart N. Long, will have a Halloween party in the social hall this evening at 8 o'clock. The members of the Young Men's Bible class will have a Halloween party on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Their wives or friends are invited.

A vegetable soup sale will be held by the Ladies Aid society of Redeemer's church on Friday, beginning at 4 o'clock. Patrons are asked to take their own containers and orders may be given by calling Mrs. Charles A. Hafe or Mrs. A. C. Garland. Those wishing to donate vegetables are requested to take them to the church kitchen on Thursday evening.

The Halloween party scheduled for the Children's department of the Sunday school for Friday evening at 7 o'clock, has been postponed to Tuesday, October 31, at the same hour.

Following the worship service, the Rev. Mr. Reynolds baptized Janice Louise Claybaugh, infant daughter of Ray Edward and Wanda Shanebrook Claybaugh, Prince street, who was born on August 4, Gettysburg.

Emmitsburg

WARTHEN-JONES
WEDDING HELD

Miss Kathleen Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crit Jones, of Salem, Ind., and Detroit, and John Warthen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Warthen, West Main street, Emmitsburg, were married Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in St. Joseph's Catholic church, Emmitsburg. The Rev. Francis Stauble, pastor of the church officiated at the double ring ceremony which was attended by a large number of relatives and friends.

The bride wore a dark green wool suit with a fine brown check, brown accessories and a white orchid corsage. She chose for her matron of honor her sister, Mrs. Raymond Baker, who wore a tan wool suit, brown accessories and a yellow rosebud corsage. Michael Bobanic, Aliquippa, Pa., brother-in-law of the groom served as best man.

The groom's mother wore a taupe crepe dress, fur neckpiece, brown accessories and a tallman rosebud corsage. Two large baskets of fall flowers were used for decorations, one on each side the sanctuary gates.

The traditional wedding marches were played by the church organist, Mrs. Euphemia Rotering, and the soloist was Mrs. Charles E. Eckenrode, aunt of the groom, who sang "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother" and "Mother at Your Feet We're Kneeling."

The bride has been living in Emmitsburg for the past year and a half with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baker. She is a graduate of Salem high school, Salem, Ind., and attended Thompson's Business school, York. The groom is a veteran of World War II, having served in the navy, spending over a year at Guam. He is now employed with his father as a plasterer.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the newly furnished home of the young couple, the property of Mrs. Ora Wagerman. Approximately 75 guests attended the reception.

The young couple left on a wedding trip to Detroit to visit with the bride's parents and will be at home to their friends about November 1.

Friends and relatives from Gettysburg, Baltimore, Aliquippa, Washington and St. Anthony's attended the wedding.

Philadelphia, Oct. 23 (AP)—Inspector John T. Murphy officially took over the command of the Philadelphia police vice squad today.

Several hours later he was scheduled to make his second appearance

before a federal grand jury investigating racketeering and gambling in eastern Pennsylvania.

Murphy was named head of the vice squad last week following the suicide of inspector Craig D. Ellis, who commanded the unit for 10 years.

Bridgeton, N. J., Oct. 23 (AP)—The prosecution is expected to introduce five confessions today allegedly made by Theodore Carter when he was picked up for the strange murder of pretty Lorraine Hess.

The purported statements, including a 30-minute wire recording made of the 18-year-old factory hand, have been attacked by his attorneys as the product of "police methods."
